10-Minute Brain Wave Test Can Foretell Coming Accidents

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 — Two Cleveland psychiatrists believe a 10-minute "brain wave" test today might help prevent industrial accidents years from now.

And while they do not repeat the recurrent plea for physical and mental examination of public officials, they assert that such tests could help determine the fitness of industrial leaders who are responsible for managing vast enterprises.

The tests might also be given to railroad engineers, airplane pilots, cab, truck and bus drivers, miners and sandhogs.

Drs. Joseph L. Fetterman and Victor M. Victoroff of Cleveland's Fetterman Clinic point out that the electroencephalograph—the "brain wave machine"—can spot some types of physical disorders years before outward symptoms occur.

Epilepsy, for example, can cause "foolish errors of judgment, inattentiveness, memory lapses, weeping spells, staring, groping and wandering."

But long before this occurs, it will alter the pattern of the tiny electrical impulses that sweep rhythmically across the surface of the brain. A careful examination of "brain wave" machine" recordings will reveal the change from normal.

A test might also reveal hidden damage to the temperature-regulation center in the brain. The doctors point out:

"The company that wishes to send men to tropical climates must know whether they are heat sensitive. The candidate whose temperature-regulating center is impaired may be unaware of it until his job causes heat stroke."

The psychiatrists' report was published in the current issue of the Archives of Industrial Hygiene and Occupation Medicine, a publication of the American Medical Association.

It added that "the electroencephalogram can help determine whether insufficient sleep will so seriously impair cerebral function in valued personnel as to risk accident and reduce output."

From industry's point of view, that means the test may help screen out men who cannot safely work overtime.

Many corporation officials who are familiar with the electrocardiograph, a machine that reveals the electrical patterns in heart action, could employ the brain wave tests with even greater success to "determine fair assignment and transfer policies. . .and salvage the experience of valued personnel who have experienced cerebral damage."

Sport Probe Ordered By President

Army, Navy Both To Be Questioned

WASHINGTON. Aug. 10—Athletic recruiting at West Point and Annapolis is due today for a presidential investigation and there was a veiled hint that the results may set the pattern for similar inquiries at other schools.

President Truman told his news conference that he is having a survey made of the whole question of current emphasis on football as an intercollegiate sport.

A reporter asked Mr. Truman for his opinion about the general subject of football recruiting. He said that if he found the remedy he would let newsmen know.

The President was then asked whether he would appoint a presidential commission to study the combined field of athletics and scholarships. He said he had already answered that question.

• • •

A WHITE HOUSE aide explained that the presidential investigation will not delve into the dismissal of 90 cadets for cribbing. That action, he said, is not within the purview of the inquiry.

Meanwhile, the waves of the scandal spread from West Point to New York, Washington and the West Coast.

In New York, Col. Earl (Red) Blaik, West Point coach, confirmed that his son, Bob, quarterback of the 1950 team, was one of the 90.

Blaik said that he intended to stay at the academy as coach because it was the best way to "make people understand these boys" and because it would aid the academy.

He said that he would field a team even though he had only "a few" members of the varsity squad left.

Harold J. Loehlein, football captian, president of West Point's senior class, and one of the 90, charged that he was threatened with imprisonment during the academy's investigation of the cribbing.

Loehlein suggested that the system of repeating the same examination for different sections of the same class at West Point be changed so as to minimize the desire of some students to help others who were to take the examination at a later date.

Sen. Ferguson, (R) Mich., declared he had "great sympathy" for the 90, but that if they were guilty of cheating there was no alternative but to discharge.

In Portland, Ore., former Congressman A. W. Lafferty made public a letter from a cadet who asked to remain anonymous. The cadet charged that the West Point honor system was "a mere rumor" and that the academy administration "is openly lying" to the public about the case.

Elephants Parade Through City

A parade of pachyderms tramped through downtown Circleville at noon Friday to announce the coming of the Al G. Kelly and Miller Bros. circus here.

A dozen elephants were used in the parade, escorted to the Harden garage on East Franklin street by city and county prowl cars.

The circus, boasting one of the most complete menageries of any circus in the country, was to have played its first show at 2 p. m. Friday on Pickaway Fairgrounds. Final showing of the circus here is due at 8 p. m. Friday.

HOUSING PROBLEM EYED

Critical Defense Area Studies Are Being Made

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — The government disclosed today that the naming of new critical defense areas has been temporarily held up pending a complete study of the new rent control law.

Defense Production Administration officials said the suspension was ordered last week and that the action affects approximately 100 cities and towns, including Philadelphia, Washington, Houston and other areas.

For at least the next two weeks, spokesmen said, DPA plans to postpone consideration of the applications pending an investigation to determine whether new rent controls are needed in 40 already designed defense localities.

Under the new rent control law, the government has authority to reimpose the ceilings in any area where a housing shortage interferes with the defense program.

• • •

DPA HAS designed approximately 40 of these areas, and credit controls on home buying in these communities and towns have been relaxed to stimulate housing output for defense workers and military personnel.

Where necessary, the agency will now recommend establishment of the new rent controls as well as relaxation of the real estate credit regulations.

Among the communities in this latter group are San Diego, the atomic energy plants at Aiken, S. C., and Paducah, Ky.; and the Norfolk-Portsmouth-Newport News, Va., area.

Applications which are frozen include those from:

San Antonio, Jacksonville, Staten Island and Ithaca, N. Y.; New Brunswick, N. J.; Wilmington, N. C.; Kansas City, Atlanta, and Roseville and Sam Miguel, Calif.

Officials said the Housing and Home Finance Agency, the Labor Department, the Office of Rent Stabilization and other federal groups are making individual studies of conditions in the areas.

The material will be reported back to DPA's critical areas committee and recommendations on the rent control question will be forwarded to Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson and Defense Secretary Marshall.

Dozen Killed As Trains Smash In Louisiana

SIMMESPORT, La., Aug. 10—A fast passenger train and a troop train carrying 300 Marines, collided headon today in a swamp area near here and state police reported at least 12 persons were killed and 60 others injured.

The casualty toll was radioed to Baton Rouge by State Police Sgt. Martin Fritcher. He informed Louisiana state police headquarters:

"Bodies are lying all around. The passenger train was demolished."

Marine Corps headquarters in Washington, D. C., said it had received a report that at least 60 persons had been killed or injured. This report came from Col. Robert Weir of the Army's New Orleans Military District.

Reports to the sheriff in New Roads, La., about 60 miles northwest of Baton Rouge, said "many persons were pinned" in the twisted wreckage.

The trains involved were operated by the Kansas City Southern Railroad. One was the streamliner "Southern Belle," enroute from Kansas City to New Orleans. The troop train was carrying the Marines from Camp Lejeune, N. C., to the West Coast.

Ambulances were dispatched to the scene but experienced difficulty in reaching the wreckage because of swampy terrain.

DENVER, Aug. 10—Moses E. Smith, superintendent of the Denver Mint, has announced that a night shift will be hired to stamp out pennies to meet the country's steadily increasing demand for the coins.

Taft Gets Truman Nod For 1952

President Omits Ike From Picture

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — President Truman gave a broad hint today that he may run again in 1952 and, if he does, he expects Sen. Taft—not Gen. Eisenhower—to be his Republican opponent.

The chief executive made it clear at his weekly news conference yesterday that he does not expect the commander-in-chief of Allied forces in Western Europe to be a candidate for the presidency on either party ticket next year.

But the President forthrightly, and some of his listeners thought gleefully, picked the Ohio Republican leader as the GOP candidate in 1952.

It is known in White House circles that the President believes he can trounce Taft and would enjoy a race against him.

Those who knew of the President's private feelings about Taft as a candidate, drew from Mr. Truman's remark an inference that the chief executive probably will run again next year.

• • •

THE PRESIDENT'S political intentions came under discussion in a question about whether he would support Eisenhower to succeed him in 1952.

Mr. Truman in one breath appeared to say that he would support Eisenhower for the presidency but, in the next breath, stated flatly that he had said no such thing.

The President then proceeded on his own to eliminate Eisenhower as a presidential candidate on either ticket.

Mr. Truman was reminded of a promise he made Eisenhower at Potsdam in 1945 that if the general wanted to run for President in 1948, he would support him.

The President was asked whether his promise still stood.

Mr. Truman replied:

"It certainly does. I am just as fond of Gen. Eisenhower as I can be. I think he is one of the great men produced by World War II and I think I have shown that by giving him the most important job available for his abilities."

"Anyway, I have another candidate on the Republican ticket."

"Would that be Sen. Taft?" the President was asked.

Mr. Truman replied:

"It would be."

Youthful Red Delegates Sneak Into West Zone

BERLIN, Aug. 10 — Berlin authorities estimated today that more than half of the delegates attending the Communist Youth Festival in East Berlin have sneaked or scampered across the border for a taste of the luxuries in the Western zone.

Local authorities say that 250 thousand of the less than half million attending the festival, instead of the two million whom the Soviets expected, have made the "excursion."

Meanwhile, between 100 and 200 East German and satellite youngsters attending the meeting have applied daily for asylum in the West. All have been advised to return unless they feel their lives were endangered by the Western trip.

West Berlin police during the day arrested 31 members of a "Junior Gestapo" who were seizing other Communist youths on their return from forbidden visits to the Western sector.

The young informers were arrested when the truck in which they were returning to their quarters at the youth festival was driven by mistake into the U. S. sector of Berlin.

KOREA ARMISTICE TALK MAY BE NEAR FAILURE

McCarthy Under Fire

Naming Of State Aides Brings Retort

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—Sen. McCarthy, (R) Wis., claimed today that a State Department attack upon his disclosure of employes he claims to be under loyalty investigation fails to explain "why they still have access to secret material congressmen can't even see."

The GOP senator was bitterly denounced for "smear tactics" by a department spokesman after McCarthy named Ambassador-at - Large Philip Jessup and 25 other employes as having loyalty cases still pending at the State Department.

Deputy Undersecretary Carlisle Humelsine called McCarthy's speech a "callous disclosure" and said it is "tantamount to holding hostage the reputations and rights of those employes."

McCarthy said he was turning his material on the cases over to the McCarran subcommittee on internal subversives. Chairman McCarran, (D) Nev., said he'd be glad to take it but "can't see the connection right now" with his own inquiry, although he conceded one might develop later.

• • •

HUMELSINE SAID that 14 of the 26 cases cited by McCarthy have been "cleared" by the loyalty board and are no longer pending as the senator claimed. He added that 13 cases are now being "processed" through the department's loyalty program, and that two persons named are not employes while one never was.

Sen. McFarland, (D) Ariz., charged in effect that McCarthy had done both the individuals involved and the country a "great injustice" by taking the "good name" of individuals through "insinuation and innuendo." He added that Soviet leaders "like very much" the mistrust which such attacks cause.

All of the persons named by McCarthy were in his list of 81 cases given the Tydings committee last year. In addition to Jessup the list included John Carter Vincent, consul-general at Tangiers and ex-ambassador to Switzerland. McCarthy said Vincent was charged with "being a member of the Communist Party" and with "espionage activity" in Switzerland.

No Progress Seen In Oil Conference

LONDON, Aug. 10—A British Foreign Office spokesman said today that nothing tangible had developed in the new series of talks with Iran in an effort to settle the long-standing oil dispute.

According to the spokesman "negotiations are nowhere near anything resembling an agreement, provisional or otherwise." Reports that some sort of agreement had been reached had been touched off in financial circles following unusual demand for oil shares on the London stock exchange.

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 10—A local woman has complained to the police that every night a strange man stops in front of her house and frightens her dog by barking at him.

TWELFTH TRY on the life of gambler Herbert Noble, called "the Cat" because of surviving previous attempts to kill him, is successful, as witness the wreckage of his 1951 sedan, in which Noble was blown up. Gangland figures reportedly had placed a price of $10,000 to $50,000 on Noble's head because of his refusal to split profits.

NEW AGENCY IS CREATED

$7.8 Billion Foreign Aid Bill OKd By Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—The House will consider a foreign aid bill next week which cuts President Truman's $8.5 billion request to $7,848,750,000 and sets up an independent federal agency.

The bill, reported unanimously last night by the Foreign Affairs Committee, authorizes the U. S. to extend military and economic assistance to Europe, Africa, the Near East, Asia and Latin America as a bulwark against Communist aggression.

The measure would establish a new agency to be known as the Mutual Security Administration. MSA will take over operation of the Marshall Plan from the Economic Cooperation Administration and Point Four from the State Department.

It also would take military assistance away from the Defense Department, except for procurement and supply of equipment.

• • •

THE NEW administrator will have status comparable to the head of an executive department and will probably draw a salary of $22,500.

Chairman Richards, (D) S. C., said: "He will be his own boss and the boss of the program."

Richards originally sponsored a bill which would have provided $7.8 billion, but the committee increased this amount by $48,750,000.

It did so by approving an additional $50 million for Arab and Jewish relief in Israel, while reducing the amount authorized for Korean reconstruction by $1,250,000.

The committee made the reduction in Korean relief in order to consider further the requirements of the war-stricken nation when the situation there clarifies.

The new consolidated agency is authorized to carry on arms and economic assistance until June 30, 1954, although ECA will be given until June 30, 1952, to wind up its Marshall Plan operations.

• • •

THE MAJOR reduction in the administration bill was made in funds for Europe which were cut by $550 million—$265 million in military aid and $285 million in economic assistance.

By areas the bill provides:

For Europe, five billion, 28 millions in military aid and one billion, 335 millions in economic aid.

For the Near East and Africa, 415 millions for arms aid and 175 millions for economic aid;

For Asia, 530 millions in military assistance and 240 million dollars for economic help;

For Latin America, 40 millions for military help and 22 millions for economic assistance.

In addition, $55 million are earmarked for general strategic materials development.

New Holland To Be Forced Into Write-In

New Holland voters will have to cast write-in ballots in this November's election if they wish to have a mayor for the next two years.

Pickaway County board of elections Thursday disallowed a petition for mayor of the village filed by the incumbent, Harold Speakman.

The board said Speakman's petition was invalid since it had not arrived in the board of elections by 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, the deadline for filing, and also because there was no filing fee paid.

None of the other 140 petitions filed by candidates before the deadline was disallowed during the Thursday session.

Buffer Zone Still Brings Stalemate

Red Chief Sits Silent 131 Minutes

KAESONG, Aug. 10—The renewed Korean armistice conference sank deeper into its quagmire of discord today when the Reds, after an unusual 131-minute silence, refused to discuss anything but a 38th Parallel buffer zone.

As a result, a briefing officer at the United Nations base below Kaesong said tonight the negotiations appear "close to a breakup and failure."

The only hopeful aspects now visible were twofold. First was the fact the delegates, at least, agreed to meet again Saturday.

Secondly was the more nebulous hope based on diplomatic experience. The latter has, on a few occasions, shown that the Communists — particularly the Russians—sometimes yield suddenly and unexpectedly on points concerning which there has been long wrangling.

• • •

THE UN SUPREME Command announced that the Red delegates, in a meeting of record length, declined "adamantly" to talk about the Allied-proposed battlefront as a possible basis for a cease-fire line.

The talks, resumed after a six-day lapse, were marked by Communist rejection of UN suggestions that any other possible line be discussed or that the negotiations proceed to the next agenda topic, creation of an armistice supervision body.

The top Red delegate, sitting absolutely quiet for a long tense time, insisted his side would talk about only one matter—Parallel 38 as a military demarcation zone.

The UN communique said the enemy's "blanket renunciation" of all subjects save the parallel came "after a historical, unprecedented two hour and 11 minute period of silence" by Gen. Nam Il, head of the North Korean-Chinese delegation.

The bulletin said Nam "failed to respond" to a reaffirmation by Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, chief UN delegate, of his "complete willingness to discuss a demilitarized zone located generally" along the battlefront.

• • •

NAM RIGIDLY refused also to respond to Joy's assertion of his "willingness to discuss possible adjustments of the proposed zone which thus far has been defined only in general terms."

The communique said Joy finished his statement at 2:44 p. m. "and from that time" until 4:55 'there was utter silence on the part of the senior Communist delegate."

An Allied briefing officer said the marathon no-talk session began with a few minutes when

Red Losses Set At 1,237,872

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—The Army estimated today that the Communists suffered 9,018 casualties in Korea from July 23 through July 31, bringing their total losses in the war to 1,237,872.

For the July 23-31 period, the Army estimated the Communists suffered 5,795 non-battle and 4,151 battle casualties. A total of 72 prisoners were taken—an average of 10 per day.

10-Minute Brain Wave Test Can Foretell Coming Accidents

CHICAGO, Aug. 10 — Two Cleveland psychiatrists believe a 10-minute "brain wave" test today might help prevent industrial accidents years from now.

And while they do not repeat the recurrent plea for physical and mental examination of public officials, they assert that such tests could help determine the fitness of industrial leaders who are responsible for managing vast enterprises.

The tests might also be given to railroad engineers, airplane pilots, cab, truck and bus drivers, miners and sandhogs.

Drs. Joseph L. Fetterman and Victor M. Victoroff of Cleveland's Fetterman Clinic point out that the electroencephalograph—the "brain wave machine"—can spot some types of physical disorders years before outward symptoms occur.

Epilepsy, for example, can cause "foolish errors of judgment, inattentiveness, memory lapses, weeping spells, staring, groping and wandering."

But long before this occurs, it will alter the pattern of the tiny electrical impulses that sweep rhythmically across the surface of the brain. A careful examination of "brain wave" machine" recordings will reveal the change from normal.

The psychiatrists' report was published in the current issue of the Archives of Industrial Hygiene and Occupation Medicine, a publication of the American Medical Association.

It added that "the electroencephalogram can help determine whether insufficient sleep will so seriously impair cerebral function in valued personnel as to risk accident and reduce output."

From industry's point of view, that means the test may help screen out men who cannot safely work overtime.

Many corporation officials who are familiar with the electrocardiograph, a machine that reveals the electrical patterns in heart action, could employ the brain wave tests with even greater success to "determine fair assignment and transfer policies. . .and salvage the experience of valued personnel who have experienced cerebral damage."

The talks, resumed after a six-day lapse, were marked by Communist rejection of UN suggestions that any other possible line be discussed or that the negotiations proceed to the next agenda topic, creation of an armistice supervision body.

The top Red delegate, sitting absolutely quiet for a long tense time, insisted his side would talk about only one matter—Parallel 38 as a military demarcation zone.

The UN communique said the enemy's "blanket renunciation" of all subjects save the parallel came "after a historical, unprecedented two hour and 11 minute period of silence" by Gen. Nam Il, head of the North Korean-Chinese delegation.

The bulletin said Nam "failed to respond" to a reaffirmation by Vice Adm. Charles Turner Joy, chief UN delegate, of his "complete willingness to discuss a demilitarized zone located generally" along the battlefront.

* * *

NAM RIGIDLY refused also to respond to Joy's assertion of his "willingness to discuss possible adjustments of the proposed zone which thus far has been defined only in general terms."

The communique said Joy finished his statement at 2:44 p. m. "and from that time" until 4:55 'there was utter silence on the part of the senior Communist delegate."

An Allied briefing officer said the marathon no-talk session began with a few minutes when

For the July 23-31 period, the Army estimated the Communists suffered 5,795 non-battle and 4,151 battle casualties. A total of 72 prisoners were taken—an average of 10 per day.

McCarthy Under Fire

Naming Of State Aides Brings Retort

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—Sen. McCarthy, (R) Wis., claimed today that a State Department attack upon his disclosure of employes he claims to be under loyalty investigation fails to explain "why they still have access to secret material congressmen can't even see."

The GOP senator was bitterly denounced for "smear tactics" by a department spokesman after McCarthy named Ambassador-at-Large Philip Jessup and 25 other employes as having loyalty cases still pending at the State Department.

Deputy Undersecretary Carlisle Humelsine called McCarthy's speech a "callous disclosure" and said it is "tantamount to holding hostage the reputations and rights of those employes."

McCarthy said he was turning his material on the cases over to the McCarran subcommittee on internal subversives. Chairman McCarran, (D) Nev., said he'd be glad to take it but "can't see the connection right now" with his own inquiry, although he conceded one might develop later.

* * *

HUMELSINE SAID that 14 of the 26 cases cited by McCarthy have been "cleared" by the loyalty board and are no longer pending as the senator claimed. He added that 13 cases are now being "processed" through the department's loyalty program, and that two persons named are not employes while one never was.

Sen. McFarland, (D) Ariz., charged in effect that McCarthy had done both the individuals involved and the country a "great injustice" by taking the "good name" of individuals through "insinuation and innuendo." He added that Soviet leaders "like very much" the mistrust which such attacks cause.

All of the persons named by McCarthy were in his list of 81 cases given the Tydings committee last year. In addition to Jessup the list included John Carter Vincent, consul-general at Tangiers and ex-ambassador to Switzerland. McCarthy said Vincent was charged with "being a member of the Communist Party" and with "espionage activity" in Switzerland.

No Progress Seen In Oil Conference

LONDON, Aug. 10—A British Foreign Office spokesman said today that nothing tangible had developed in the new series of talks with Iran in an effort to settle the long-standing oil dispute.

According to the spokesman "negotiations are nowhere near anything resembling an agreement, provisional or otherwise." Reports that some sort of agreement had been reached had been touched off in financial circles following unusual demand for oil shares on the London stock exchange.

Man Scares Dog

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 10—A local woman has complained to the police that every night a strange man stops in front of her house and frightens her dog by barking at him.

TWELFTH TRY on the life of gambler Herbert Noble, called "the Cat" because of surviving previous attempts to kill him, is successful, as witness the wreckage of his 1951 sedan, in which Noble was blown up. A bomb exploded as he leaned out of his car to open his rural mail box near Dallas, Tex. Gangland figures reportedly had placed a price of $10,000 to $50,000 on Noble's head because of his refusal to split profits.

NEW AGENCY IS CREATED

$7.8 Billion Foreign Aid Bill OKd By Committee

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10—The House will consider a foreign aid bill next week which cuts President Truman's $8.5 billion request to $7,848,750,000 and sets up an independent federal agency.

The bill, reported unanimously last night by the Foreign Affairs Committee, authorizes the U. S. to extend military and economic assistance to Europe, Africa, the Near East, Asia and Latin America as a bulwark against Communist aggression.

The measure would establish a new agency to be known as the Mutual Security Administration. MSA will take over operation of the Marshall Plan from the Economic Cooperation Administration and Point Four from the State Department.

It also would take military assistance away from the Defense Department, except for procurement and supply of equipment.

* * *

THE NEW administrator will have status comparable to the head of an executive department and will probably draw a salary of $22,500.

Chairman Richards, (D) S. C., said: "He will be his own boss and the boss of the program."

Richards originally sponsored a bill which would have provided $7.8 billion, but the committee increased this amount by $48,750,000.

It did so by approving an additional $50 million for Arab and Jewish relief in Israel, while reducing the amount authorized for Korean reconstruction by $1,250,000.

The committee made the reduction in Korean relief in order to consider further the requirements of the war-stricken nation when the situation there clarifies.

The new consolidated agency is authorized to carry on arms and economic assistance until June 30, 1954, although ECA will be given until June 30, 1952, to wind up its Marshall Plan operations.

* * *

THE MAJOR reduction in the administration bill was made in funds for Europe which were cut by $550 million—$265 million in military aid and $285 million in economic assistance.

By areas the bill provides:

For Europe, five billion, 28 millions in military aid and one billion, 335 millions in economic aid.

For the Near East and Africa, 415 millions for arms aid and 175 millions for economic aid;

For Asia, 530 millions in military assistance and 240 million dollars for economic help;

For Latin America, 40 millions for military help and 22 millions for economic assistance.

In addition, $55 million are earmarked for general strategic materials development.

New Holland To Be Forced Into Write-In

New Holland voters will have to cast write-in ballots in this November's election if they wish to have a mayor for the next two years.

Pickaway County board of elections Thursday disallowed a petition for mayor of the village filed by the incumbent, Harold Speakman.

The board said Speakman's petition was invalid since it had not arrived in the board of elections by 6:30 p. m. Wednesday, the deadline for filing, and also because there was no filing fee paid.

None of the other 140 petitions filed by candidates before the deadline was disallowed during the Thursday session.

After a while Nam got a note from one of the Chinese delegates, and there were some whispers in the back row of the Red envoys. The North Korean top delegate began showing signs of getting fidgety within six minutes.

The Chinese whispered to Nam several times during the silent period, and he once got a note from his liaison officer, Col. Chang, who is believed to be some kind of political adviser.

When it became "abundantly apparent that a deadlock was about to ensue," the announcement related, "Joy made a further proposal "in hopes of finding a passable area of agreement."

The American admiral suggested that the conferees leave agenda item two, regarding the buffer zone issue which has deadlocked the talks for 10 days, and go on to item three. The latter deals with "concrete arrangements for the realization of a military armistice and resultant cease-fire."

"For a second time during the afternoon," the communique continued, "Gen. Nam Il, without equivocation, refused to discuss any point other than the 38th Parallel."

Despite this critical stalemate, the two delegations agreed to meet in a 21st session in Kaesong at 11 o'clock Saturday morning (8 p. m. Friday EST).

In addition to the huge list of candidates for city, county, township and village elections this Fall, the board has received four tax levy requests to date.

Deercreek Township school district is seeking a new two-mill levy for current operating expenses. The levy is asked for a period of three years with taxation at 20 cents for each $100 valuation.

Monroe Township school district is seeking renewal of a three-mill levy for current operating expenses. The levy is asked for a period of five years with taxation at 30 cents per $100 valuation.

People Have Only Selves To Blame If They Dislike Present Leaders

People of the United States have only themselves to blame for many of the conditions they cry most about, Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt told Circleville Rotarians at their luncheon Thursday noon.

Walcutt, who resides near Columbus, is president pro-tem and Republican majority leader of the Ohio senate, having represented Franklin and Pickaway Counties in the upper house since 1943. An attorney, he is widely known as a leader in fraternal and church circles as well as in public affairs.

The senator has been mentioned frequently as a possible candidate for governor in 1952, but while in Circleville Thursday he continued to decline comment on the rumor.

"By our neglect of public affairs, we have undermined the principles of our representative form of government and have placed our way of life in grave peril", Walcutt said here in his luncheon talk.

* * *

CITIZENS generally, he asserted, fail on the one hand to properly support the efforts of their officials who attempt conscientiously to do good jobs and, on the other hand, are too inclined to condone inefficiency and dishonesty in public office.

The senator challenged the Rotarians, and business and professional people generally, to vote regularly, to vote intelligently in the choice of public officials, and then to keep the acts of those officials under close scrutiny during their terms of office.

"It's a crime and a shame", Walcutt said, "that one-third of the people-your kind of people—never darken the door of an election booth to cast a ballot, even for such high offices as governor and President.

"This aloofness from politics on the part of so many so-called good people is little short of suicide for our kind of government. We will have better officials and better laws only when you devote your intelligence and your experience to the problems and personnel of government in much the same way you do to the problems and personnel of hour own businesses.

"After all, with the increasing encroachment of government in business, public oficials to an increasing degree are actually helping to run your businesses.

* * *

"WHY NOT, THEN, get busy and have a real part in choosing those who have so much to say about how you conduct your affairs?"

Referring particularly to the work of the Ohio legislature, Walcutt called for a more informed criticism of the activities of that body and its members. Too much criticism today, he said, comes only from the "headline readers", who never get down to the "fine print" of public affairs.

As an example, Walcutt pointed out that in the last session of the legislature most public attention, discussion, and criticism were on the bills passed, with little note that the legislature discarded or defeated 750 bills which, after long and careful study, the members decided were not in the public interest.

George Groom, 31, of 554 East Main street, told Officer Elmer Merriman he had started to enter Pickaway street when the mishap happened. The youngster was riding his bicycle north on the sidewalk on the west side of Pickaway street.

MARSHALL, Tex., Aug. 10—Internal Revenue agents today were winning the battle against tax-rebelling housewives in Marshall.

Despite heated protests, federal agents have collected $47.97 from the bank accounts of 11 protesting housewives.

The agents, who have warrants for the seizures, must now find accounts of the two remaining holdouts to complete the collection.

Aid Is Found To Ease Asthma

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—Cortisone administered orally instead of by the usual injection method was described today as the quickest means of easing severe bronchial asthma.

Drs. Sidney Friendlaender and Alex S. Friedlaender of Detroit reported in the current Journal of the American Medical Association that the hormone in tablet form brought relief to nine patients in from two to 24 hours.

They warned, however, that its use in bronchial asthma should be "restricted to those periods of extreme stress when other proved symptomatic measures are ineffective."

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. However, unsigned letters will be disregarded. Nom de plume will be used if requested.

Editor, The Herald:

City Council (last Tuesday) passed an ordinance according to Article XVIII, Section 8 of the Ohio Constitution providing for the submission to the electors of the City of Circleville at the November election of the following two questions:

(1) "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter" and

(2) "Who shall serve on the commission of 15 members in the event that question (1) is decided affirmatively."

If a majority of the electors vote affirmatively for the propositions, we will not have changed our form of government. We haven't even made certain that a change, if any, will be to City Manager type.

The proposed form of government, whatever the form may be, is not in existence yet. It won't come into existence until the commission actually draws up a charter. The commission will not be limited to City Manager government. It could just as well provide for Mayor-Council or Commission type.

After the charter is drawn up, and it is then evident the type of government proposed, then the electors will be faced with the issue of a change. Then and only then, will we know what the proposed change is.

I like to think of the above procedure as analagous to selling. A salesman approaches you with the idea of selling you his product. If you are not familiar with it, the salesman will ask your permission to show it to you. You are confronted with a decision. If you answer "no", that ends the matter right there. If you answer "yes", he shows it to you. Please note that you have not bought it when you say "yes" the first time. Before you have bought it, you must say "yes" again, and this time to his question "Will you buy it?"

If this product is just the thing you have been wanting and you realize it only after he shows you, you would then realize that it was your gain to give him permission to show it to you. If the product was of no interest to you after he had shown you, you could say "no".

At this coming November election it is asked that we give the 15 members of the commission permission, to show us a new product. If the product which they show us is of no interest, we have the opportunity at a later election to say "no". If the product is just what we want, we would be glad that we gave them permission.

Federal-Owned Fence Stolen From Bin Area

Pickaway County authorities this week are seeking the identity of a person who needed farm fencing badly enough to risk a federal accusation.

Eight rolls of field fence valued at $200 has been reported stolen from the federal granaries at Route 56 and the Darbyville Pike, west of Circleville.

Thieves made off with eight of 11 rolls of 20-rod fencing stored at the federal granary site. The wire was valued at $1.60 per rod.

Deputy Walter Richards said the fencing was number nine top and bottom with a six - inch mesh. The rolls were tagged with labels reading "American."

In addition to bypassing the other three rolls, the thief also overlooked eight 14-foot gates. If not recovered, loss of the wire will be sustained by the government.

People Have Only Selves To Blame If They Dislike Present Leaders

People of the United States have only themselves to blame for many of the conditions they cry most about, Senator Roscoe R. Walcutt told Circleville Rotarians at their luncheon Thursday noon.

Walcutt, who resides near Columbus, is president pro-tem and Republican majority leader of the Ohio senate, having represented Franklin and Pickaway Counties in the upper house since 1943. An attorney, he is widely known as a leader in fraternal and church circles as well as in public affairs.

The senator has been mentioned frequently as a possible candidate for governor in 1952, but while in Circleville Thursday he continued to decline comment on the rumor.

"By our neglect of public affairs, we have undermined the principles of our representative form of government and have placed our way of life in grave peril", Walcutt said here in his luncheon talk.

* * *

CITIZENS generally, he asserted, fail on the one hand to properly support the efforts of their officials who attempt conscientiously to do good jobs and, on the other hand, are too inclined to condone inefficiency and dishonesty in public office.

The senator challenged the Rotarians, and business and professional people generally, to vote regularly, to vote intelligently in the choice of public officials, and then to keep the acts of those officials under close scrutiny during their terms of office.

"It's a crime and a shame", Walcutt said, "that one-third of the people-your kind of people—never darken the door of an election booth to cast a ballot, even for such high offices as governor and President.

"This aloofness from politics on the part of so many so-called good people is little short of suicide for our kind of government. We will have better officials and better laws only when you devote your intelligence and your experience to the problems and personnel of government in much the same way you do to the problems and personnel of hour own businesses.

"After all, with the increasing encroachment of government in business, public oficials to an increasing degree are actually helping to run your businesses.

* * *

"WHY NOT, THEN, get busy and have a real part in choosing those who have so much to say about how you conduct your affairs?"

Referring particularly to the work of the Ohio legislature, Walcutt called for a more informed criticism of the activities of that body and its members. Too much criticism today, he said, comes only from the "headline readers", who never get down to the "fine print" of public affairs.

As an example, Walcutt pointed out that in the last session of the legislature most public attention, discussion, and criticism were on the bills passed, with little note that the legislature discarded or defeated 750 bills which, after long and careful study, the members decided were not in the public interest.

Lad Visiting Here Is Hurt In Accident

A 10-year-old West Mansfield youngster, visiting friends in Circleville, was injured here early Friday when his bicycle was struck by a truck.

He is Orville McCracken, who was treated in Berger hospital for injuries to his left leg and ankle.

The accident happened at about 8:30 a. m. Friday at the intersection of the first alley south of Edison avenue with South Pickaway street.

George Groom, 31, of 554 East Main street, told Officer Elmer Merriman he had started to enter Pickaway street when the mishap happened. The youngster was riding his bicycle north on the sidewalk on the west side of Pickaway street.

Texas Women Relax Battle

MARSHALL, Tex., Aug. 10—Internal Revenue agents today were winning the battle against tax-rebelling housewives in Marshall.

Thirteen women have refused to collect and remit Social Security taxes for their domestic employes but the government has been getting the money by tapping bank accounts.

Despite heated protests, federal agents have collected $47.97 from the bank accounts of 11 protesting housewives.

The agents, who have warrants for the seizures, must now find accounts of the two remaining holdouts to complete the collection.

Walnut FFA Pockets $150

Walnut Township Future Farmers of America collected $150 in prize money and 13 trophies during the recent 1951 Pickaway County Fair.

In addition, the Walnut FFA'ers won 23 first place ribbons, 13 seconds, eight thirds and three fourths.

Winners of trophies in the club were Waldo Swoyer, Ernie Martin, Marvin Spangler, Paul Wippel, David Hedges, Max Spangler, Tom Wells, Bob Norpoth and Gregg Riegel.

The Walnut Club, made up of 12 vocational agriculture pupils of Walnut Township school, is advised by D. E. Klamfoth.

Aid Is Found To Ease Asthma

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—Cortisone administered orally instead of by the usual injection method was described today as the quickest means of easing severe bronchial asthma.

Drs. Sidney Friendlaender and Alex S. Friedlaender of Detroit reported in the current Journal of the American Medical Association that the hormone in tablet form brought relief to nine patients in from two to 24 hours.

They warned, however, that its use in bronchial asthma should be "restricted to those periods of extreme stress when other proved symptomatic measures are ineffective."

Letter To The Editor

The Circleville Herald encourages letters to the editor on pertinent subjects of local interest. However unsigned letters will be disregarded. Nom de plume will be used if requested.

Editor, The Herald:

City Council (last Tuesday) passed an ordinance according to Article XVIII, Section 8 of the Ohio Constitution providing for the submission to the electors of the City of Circleville at the November election of the following two questions:

(1) "Shall a commission be chosen to frame a charter" and

(2) "Who shall serve on the commission of 15 members in the event that question (1) is decided affirmatively."

If a majority of the electors vote affirmatively for the propositions, we will not have changed our form of government. We haven't even made certain that a change, if any, will be to City Manager type.

The proposed form of government, whatever the form may be, is not in existence yet. It won't come into existence until the commission actually draws up a charter. The commission will not be limited to City Manager government. It could just as well provide for Mayor-Council or Commission type.

After the charter is drawn up, and it is then evident the type of government proposed, then the electors will be faced with the issue of a change. Then and only then, will we know what the proposed change is.

I like to think of the above procedure as analagous to selling. A salesman approaches you with the idea of selling you his product. If you are not familiar with it, the salesman will ask your permission to show it to you. You are confronted with a decision. If you answer "no", that ends the matter right there. If you answer "yes", he shows it to you. Please note that you have not bought it when you say "yes" the first time. Before you have bought it, you must say "yes" again, and this time to his question "Will you buy it?"

If this product is just the thing you have been wanting and you realize it only after he shows you, you would then realize that it was your gain to give him permission to show it to you. If the product was of no interest to you after he had shown you, you could say "no".

At this coming November election it is asked that we give the 15 members of the commission permission, to show us a new product. If the product which they show us is of no interest, we have the opportunity at a later election to say "no". If the product is just what we want, we would be glad that we gave them permission.

Federal-Owned Fence Stolen From Bin Area

Pickaway County authorities this week are seeking the identity of a person who needed farm fencing badly enough to risk a federal accusation.

Eight rolls of field fence valued at $200 has been reported stolen from the federal granaries at Route 56 and the Darbyville Pike, west of Circleville.

Thieves made off with eight of 11 rolls of 20-rod fencing stored at the federal granary site. The wire was valued at $1.60 per rod.

Deputy Walter Richards said the fencing was number nine top and bottom with a six-inch mesh. The rolls were tagged with labels reading "American."

In addition to bypassing the other three rolls, the thief also overlooked eight 14-foot gates. If not recovered, loss of the wire will be sustained by the government.

No Fire Fund Surplus Allowed

COLUMBUS, Aug. 10—Village fire departments were barred by an attorney general's opinion today from accumulating surpluses from their appropriations in order to purchase new equipment.

Attorney General C. William O'Neill has ruled that fire departments must return to the village general fund any appropriations not used in a fiscal year.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Dr. Clifford R. Adams, Professor of Psychology and Director of Marriage Counseling Service, Pennsylvania State College, has written a new book, "Preparing for Marriage; a Guide to Marital and Sexual Adjustment."

Among many other facts, theories and items in this book, Dr. Adams gives what he calls "Ten Commandments," appearing in his chapter 'After Thoughts."

1. Right preparation for marriage includes growing up in an atmosphere of love and understanding; also competence in household skills for girls and in maintenance and household repairs for boys.

2. Wise choice of a mate seeks similarity in tastes, motives and needs, moral codes and religion and readiness to adjust difference in such directions.

3. Put loyalty and affection to spouse above loyalty and affection to parents.

4. Both man and wife need to strive to make a go of marriage. "Neither can do it alone but it is largely through the wife's efforts that marriage will become happy. Though husbands can cause marriage to fail, it's almost always the wives who make them succeed."

* * *

AREN'T THESE last two statements a bit sweeping? While other investigations have pointed out that the wife more often than the husband makes the necessary adjustments for harmony, neither published facts nor common sense warrants the conclusion that happy marriage does not require as much unselfishness and effort toward success by the husband as the wife. At various places through the book, Dr. Adams seems to expect proportionately far too little of husbands. In their wider relationships as persons, he frequently pictures the wife in a minor role.

5. Be patient, keeping your eyes on the big goals—"your own home, a serene family, security for old age—and today's petty annoyances will seem unimportant."

6. Put yourself in the other's place, following the Golden Rule.

7. Spiritual unity having been attained by observing the foregoing, "this unity can and should be expressed in physical love."

8. Have children. "To have children is not only a goal of marriage, but an obligation to society. To deny this obligation is to evade your responsibility and to deprive yourself and your mate of one of the greatest satisfactions of marriage."

9. Plan your family early. Decide then when you want to have the first baby and how many and budget the family income accordingly. Dr. Adams warns newlyweds against waiting till they think they can afford a family.

10. When troubles arise which you can't by your own efforts resolve, seek impersonal counsel—of your clergyman or a marriage counselor, not of relatives and friends.

With most of the foregoing I could heartily agree. But the lack of balance with the rest of the book by the chapter on "Achieving Sexual Satisfaction," I would question. It's based on research but the research almost ignores many of the countless psychological factors involved.

Dr. Adams does say that "it is abundantly clear that the degree of satisfaction found in sex relationships by both partners is clearly related to the total happiness of the marriage." Yet the average reader of this chapter hardly would arrive at this conclusion.

This book is a distinct contribution to the literature on marriage. I would heartily recommend it to wives and husbands, especially newlyweds.

Youth Assembly Expects Latins To Play Major Role Next Year

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 10—The secretary-general of the World Assembly of Youth predicted today that when the organization holds its next convention "the great continent of South America will be represented by a score of active members."

F. Paul Mercereau said in an aldress to WAY delegates, meeting at Cornell university:

"We have been impressed by the caliber of the observers from Latin American countries, and we are looking forward to the time when they will join with us in actively pursuing our aims."

The World Assembly of Youth, Mercerau explained, was established in Brussels, and its contacts spread quickly in Europe, Africa and Asia. The long standing existence of eligible national voluntary organizations in the United States sped the participation of American youth in WAY.

Unfortunately, the secretary-general added, contacts with Latin America were not established until a later date and, until recently, were rather sporadic. This situation was due to the problems and difficulties of a young and growing organization, which could not afford to publish its documents in Spanish, and not to disinterest or indifference.

"There are not any Latin American members in WAY," Mercereau said, "for the simple reason that there is, as yet, no national committee in any of the South American countries, and to this same reason may be attributed the small attendance from Latin-America.

* * *

"ACCORDING TO the charter of WAY," he added, "a national committee shall consist of two or more national voluntary organizations which represent main tendencies of youth in their country, either meeting for the purpose of consultation and-or consideration of their activities, or meeting only for the purpose of choosing a joint delegation for meetings of WAY."

Workshop sessions on twelve specific subjects dealing with human rights have been resumed. Early next week, the general assembly will receive resolutions for approval from the workshops. Then it will be up to the WAY council, meeting Aug. 17-21, to formulate projects to carry those resolutions into effect.

Illinois Town Opens Sweet Corn Festival

MENDOTA, Ill., Aug. 10—Population of Mendota—4,000—expands five times today for the fourth annual "World's Greatest Sweet Corn Festival."

Visitors to the small Illinois town in the nation's Corn Belt will be able to consume as many ears of sweet corn as they can hold.

In addition to the kettle-boiled corn eight tons will be steamed in an old steam engine.

On the program are a concert, a pet and costume parade and—naturally—a corn-eating contest.

Officials still are trying to live down the embarrassment occasioned by last year's festivities when a last-minute check disclosed that there wasn't an ear of sweet corn ripe in the area.

Nearby Hoopeston saved the day, however, by sending over the corn.

This year Mendota has its own supply.

Child Problems and Solutions

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PhD

Dr. Clifford R. Adams, Professor of Psychology and Director of Marriage Counseling Service, Pennsylvania State College, has written a new book, "Preparing for Marriage; a Guide to Marital and Sexual Adjustment."

Among many other facts, theories and items in this book, Dr. Adams gives what he calls "Ten Commandments," appearing in his chapter 'After Thoughts."

1. Right preparation for marriage includes growing up in an atmosphere of love and understanding; also competence in household skills for girls and in maintenance and household repairs for boys.

2. Wise choice of a mate seeks similarity in tastes, motives and needs, moral codes and religion and readiness to adjust difference in such directions.

3. Put loyalty and affection to spouse above loyalty and affection to parents.

4. Both man and wife need to strive to make a go of marriage. "Neither can do it alone but it is largely through the wife's efforts that marriage will become happy. Though husbands can cause marriage to fail, it's almost always the wives who make them succeed."

* * *

AREN'T THESE last two statements a bit sweeping? While other investigations have pointed out that the wife more often than the husband makes the necessary adjustments for harmony, neither published facts nor common sense warrants the conclusion that happy marriage does not require as much unselfishness and effort toward success by the husband as the wife. At various places through the book, Dr. Adams seems to expect proportionately far too little of husbands. In their wider relationships as persons, he frequently pictures the wife in a minor role.

5. Be patient, keeping your eyes on the big goals—"your own home, a serene family, security for old age—and today's petty annoyances will seem unimportant."

6. Put yourself in the other's place, following the Golden Rule.

7. Spiritual unity having been attained by observing the foregoing, "this unity can and should be expressed in physical love."

8. Have children. "To have children is not only a goal of marriage, but an obligation to society. To deny this obligation is to evade your responsibility and to deprive yourself and your mate of one of the greatest satisfactions of marriage."

9. Plan your family early. Decide then when you want to have the first baby and how many and budget the family income accordingly. Dr. Adams warns newlyweds against waiting till they think they can afford a family.

10. When troubles arise which you can't by your own efforts resolve, seek impersonal counsel—of your clergyman or a marriage counselor, not of relatives and friends.

With most of the foregoing I could heartily agree. But the lack of balance with the rest of the book by the chapter on "Achieving Sexual Satisfaction," I would question. It's based on research but the research almost ignores many of the countless psychological factors involved.

Dr. Adams does say that "it is abundantly clear that the degree of satisfaction found in sex relationships by both partners is clearly related to the total happiness of the marriage." Yet the average reader of this chapter hardly would arrive at this conclusion.

This book is a distinct contribution to the literature on marriage. I would heartily recommend it to wives and husbands, especially newlyweds.

Answering Parents' Questions

Q. We're trying to train our 9-year-old girl in operating on an allowance, but her grandfather upsets our plans by giving her extra money now and then.

A. Try to persuade him to discontinue this practice unless you can prevail on your daughter to put this money aside for some special useful purpose.

Youth Assembly Expects Latins To Play Major Role Next Year

ITHACA, N. Y., Aug. 10—The secretary-general of the World Assembly of Youth predicted today that when the organization holds its next convention "the great continent of South America will be represented by a score of active members."

F. Paul Mercereau said in an aldress to WAY delegates, meeting at Cornell university:

"We have been impressed by the caliber of the observers from Latin American countries, and we are looking forward to the time when they will join with us in actively pursuing our aims."

The World Assembly of Youth, Mercerau explained, was established in Brussels, and its contacts spread quickly in Europe, Africa and Asia. The long standing existence of eligible national voluntary organizations in the United States sped the participation of American youth in WAY.

Unfortunately, the secretary-general added, contacts with Latin America were not established until a later date and, until recently, were rather sporadic. This situation was due to the problems and difficulties of a young and growing organization, which could not afford to publish its documents in Spanish, and not to disinterest or indifference.

"There are not any Latin American members in WAY," Mercereau said, "for the simple reason that there is, as yet, no national committee in any of the South American countries, and to this same reason may be attributed the small attendance from Latin-America.

* * *

"ACCORDING TO the charter of WAY," he added, "a national committee shall consist of two or more national voluntary organizations which represent main tendencies of youth in their country, either meeting for the purpose of consultation and-or consideration of their activities, or meeting only for the purpose of choosing a joint delegation for meetings of WAY."

Workshop sessions on twelve specific subjects dealing with human rights have been resumed. Early next week, the general assembly will receive resolutions for approval from the workshops. Then it will be up to the WAY council, meeting Aug. 17-21, to formulate projects to carry those resolutions into effect.

Illinois Town Opens Sweet Corn Festival

MENDOTA, Ill., Aug. 10—Population of Mendota—4,000—expands five times today for the fourth annual "World's Greatest Sweet Corn Festival."

Visitors to the small Illinois town in the nation's Corn Belt will be able to consume as many ears of sweet corn as they can hold.

In addition to the kettle-boiled corn eight tons will be steamed in an old steam engine.

On the program are a concert, a pet and costume parade and—naturally—a corn-eating contest.

Officials still are trying to live down the embarrassment occasioned by last year's festivities when a last-minute check disclosed that there wasn't an ear of sweet corn ripe in the area.

Nearby Hoopeston saved the day, however, by sending over the corn.

This year Mendota has its own supply.

MERCHANT MARINE WOES

THE United States is the world's second merchant ship nation, its shipping totalling approximately 19 million tons, compared to Britain's 22 million. The various companies operating merchant ships are of two classes, those that accept government subsidies and those that do not. The latter are greatly in the minority and may soon be snuffed out.

Recently maritime unions won agreements with key lines on wages, hours of labor, vacations and other benefits which will amount to a wage advance of 30 percent over the current base. This agreement is now before the Wage Stabilization Board, which is dominated by union officials and probably will accept it. In that event the non-subsidy lines are expected to go subsidy or quit operating.

It has been revealed that 64 percent of all tonnage moving on American ships is paid for by American taxpayers through government grants. Thus the American merchant marine, which in former days was strictly private enterprise and contributed greatly to America's progress, is now all but socialized and under the control of the politicians.

If union heads read history they must know that government control of any enterprise finally turns out badly for the working man. But they are pricing the sailors out of world markets and squarely into the arms of a government monopoly.

REDS GO UNDERGROUND

J. EDGAR HOOVER says the Communist Party in the United States is going still deeper underground, and in positions prepared in advance will continue its fight against free government and for Russia. The Communists plan to organize forces of destruction secretly until such time as they appear to be strong enough to start the revolution by which they hope to overthrow the Republic.

Working underground the Communists are busy coordinating their strategy, unobserved they hope. The American people have become more fully aware of the danger of Communism, and the Reds cannot face the righteous indignation of an aroused public.

Hoover sounds the warnings which all loyal Americans must heed. The head of the FBI has never regarded exposes of the Communist menace as "red herrings."

A million and a half pounds of rice are thrown at newly married couples in the United States in a year. Probably to prevent the government from giving it to the Chinese Reds.

Men, the women say, are contrary critters who want home atmosphere in a hotel and hotel service at home.

These Days

The McCarran committee obtained much of its information concerning the Institute of Pacific Relations by subpoenaing the files of that body which were in a barn in Lee, Mass., owned by Edward C. Carter.

Carter is a clever man, in his seventies, who has made his way in the world of international affairs with astounding success since World War 1.

It is admitted by Carter tha the files are authentic. The senators then wanted to know whether the institute had ever made an independent check to discover if the charges that Communists were using it as a front were authentic. Carter said that they had made such a check and threw in a lot of names: President Sproul of the University of California, Prof. Joseph P. Chamberlain of Columbia (his niece was then Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt Field), Brooks Emeny of Cleveland, now president of the Foreign Policy Association, and Arthur Deane of Sullivan and Cromwell. There were others. What did they discover? Well, this is the colloquy on the subject:

"Mr. Carter. Not an investigation in the sense of reading 400 books and thousands of letters.

"Senator Ferguson. Do you not think it would have been proper for an organization such as this to make a search to attempt to see whether or not serious charges are true, so if there were they could clean their own house rather than to have a congressional committee do it?

"The Chairman. The question is susceptible to a yes or no answer, and you can explain afterwards. If you do not care to answer yes or no, I think the matter ought to terminate.

"Senator Ferguson. I want to know whether or not it would be a reasonable thing when charges are made against an organization as large as this that they were acting as a front of Communism, that somebody in there would not have had an examination, a detailed investigation of their house after these papers were seized and whether or not they did and whether or not they made a report.

"Mr. Carter. Charges that were made at the time of the seizure were in large part the same charges that had been made by a New York businessman Mr. Alfred Kohlberg. They were investigated in view of the officers of the IPR. They were not substantiated. The new charges were so similar, in some cases so identical, that I imagine the committee felt there was no use of going through it again.

"Senator Ferguson. Was this investigation made after the papers were found in the office of Amerasia? Didn't that put an entirely different complexion on this whole Communist front and this organization being a Communist front?

"Mr. Carter. It would have been an entirely complexion if there had been a proven charge that the Amerasia passed on restricted documents to representatives of foreign governments.

"Senator Ferguson. You mean the fact that they stole the papers out of the files of the federal government, and used them, the mere fact they didn't pass them on to foreign governments made a difference?

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

THE STRAY beef was rounded up, the fence repaired. The haying was over and there ensued a period of light work before the round-up would come in the early fall. It was a time when a man could leave his job for a few days and ride into town to see what it was like. Some of the hands did, though Frick tried to hold them to the ranch.

Tonto noticed the grumbling and he felt that Frick had no good reason to keep them so close to the bunkhouse. However, he did not countermand the segundo's orders, but one night he knocked on the cottage door. Frick appeared and his bulky body blocked the doorway. He made no move to invite Tonto inside.

"What's up?" he said. There was veiled insult in his tone.

"I hear you're holding the boys pretty close," Tonto said. "Any reason?"

"I need a crew to work the spread."

"Not all of 'em. The boys can rotate on trips to town."

"Tell 'em yourself."

"That's your job. I'm giving you a chance to straighten it up yourself."

"If that's the way you want it."

"I want it. Your grouching time's about up, Ken. A man's only got so much patience."

Tonto left him standing in the door. He went back to the ranch house and cursed himself for a fool. He should have dismissed Frick right after the fight. The man roweled like a cruel Spanish spur. Tonto sighed and called on his patience again. He had done the right thing. Every man of the crew knew that Frick had been given every chance to forget his grudge.

Saturday dawned bright and fair and Tonto himself felt the need to escape from the steady routine of work. He saddled Star and headed toward Avrillo. When he came to the Rafter K road, he drew rein and stared at the sign for long, long minutes then lifted his eyes and followed the yellow ruts of the road to the top of the hill.

He looked toward Avrillo. In sudden decision, he gave the road a parting salute and headed toward the Rafter K. Star sensed a new eagerness in his rider and the bay broke into a swift trot that quickly brought him to the brow of the hills. The road dipped and not far below was the Rafter K line fence and main gate.

He had just closed the gate after him when he heard the rattle of wheels and the muffled thud of hoofs. A buckboard came rolling toward him, Lois King handling the reins. A wrinkled old puncher sat beside her in the seat. She halted the team with a flourish and smiled at Tonto.

"A visitor to the Rafter K?" she said.

"You're riding to town," he said and she laughed at the disappointment in his voice. She passed the reins to the puncher and handed him a penciled list.

"You can get these as well as I. I'll go back to the ranch with Mr. Riley."

She was out of the buckboard and swung open the gate. Tonto and the old puncher looked at her in surprise. She laughed at Tonto. "You will give me a ride back home, won't you?"

"Oh, sure."

After the buckboard had rattled through the gate and on toward the town, Tonto and Lois mounted Star. She rode behind him, fingers hooked in his belt.

It was a pleasant way to ride, an intimate way. She had never been this close to him, and Tonto was keenly aware of the slight pressure of each finger in the small of his back. Now that he was with her, he found there was little he could say. Meaningless talk was somehow out of place and he felt that he could not as yet tell her how he really felt.

He had known her such a short time. How could he say that she intruded into his thoughts all the time? How could he tell her that time and again he had wanted to drop everything at the Slash S and ride to see her? Yet he had to. His dilemma kept him silent.

Lois said very little herself, seeming to sense his mood, though not the reason for it. They followed the pleasant trail deep into the hills until they came to a narrow little stream, not more than a foot deep and Star gave signs of wanting a drink.

"We'd better water Star," Tonto said over his shoulder.

"All right."

He reined Star in and gave Lois a hand as she dismounted. He swung out of saddle himself and the bay lowered its head to the water. Lois moved away a few feet and stood looking down the stream. Tonto came up beside her.

"I've always liked this place. It's not far from the ranch and sometimes I slip away to come up here and dream a little." She pointed to a tree close to the bank. "I sit over there for hours."

She smiled up at him and Tonto caught his breath. Something surged up within him, choking him. Instinctively he knew that this was the time and the place. His eyes held her and there was a subtle, slow change in her. Tonto felt it. He touched her shoulders, gently, and turned her toward him.

"I've been wanting to say—this."

He kissed her, held her close, kissed her again. For an instant she stiffened and was startled. Then her arms went up around his shoulders and her lips responded. At last Tonto raised his head and took a deep breath. He smiled down at her.

"I reckon—I've been looking for you all my life."

"So have I, Tonto. I've been a long time waiting."

He kissed her again. Now there were no doubts.

Mexican Oil May Help Make Up Iranian Loss

PWB May Get Control Of 'Voice of America'

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—United States officials who should know predict that this government will offer financial and technical aid to Mexico's nationalized oil industry to step up production and, in part, make up for losses suffered in Iran's nationalization of petroleum.

Secretary Chapman

Thus the losses suffered by one nation—Iran—through nationalization may benefit another nation—Mexico—which lost needed United States aid when it expropriated stateside oil properties years ago.

Preliminary negotiations are believed to be behind Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman's recent hurried trip south of the border.

A United States-Mexico oil agreement would be a complete reversal of administration policy, which has so far opposed any aid to Mexican oil.

Assistance to the Mexican National Oil Corporation, known as Pemex to thousands of U. S. tourists, would probably come from $150 million in loans earmarked for almost every other type of economic development in Mexico. Part of this fund, or additional credits, might be diverted to petroleum for pipe line equipment and other facilities to increase the volume of oil moving from Mexico's fields.

● PROPAGANDA MERGER?—Former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray's new Psychological Warfare Board is expected to attempt a consolidation of the United States' various overseas publicity agencies. Congressional leaders are mapping a plan to move the State department's Voice of America to the PWB. However, a fight is expected from State.

Proponents of the move feel that it would be easier to get funds for the Voice if it is not in the State department, favorite target of congressional economizers. Many supporters of the Voice feel that it suffers because of its sponsorship.

The new Gray board, which will work with the Central Intelligence Agency, also may take over the Defense department's overseas information sections, as well as those of other departments.

* * * *

● IKE AGAIN—There seems to be more than an even chance that the name of Gen. Dwight David Eisenhower will be entered in the Oregon presidential primary next May 16.

If Ike's hat is thrown in the ring, the tossing will have to be before Feb. 16—the required 90 days before the primary for filing the names of all candidates.

Supporters of the European supreme commander are anxious to test his drawing power and popularity in an actual vote. They also want to know what ticket on which to run him.

Oregon May Force Decision

A candidate's name may be entered in the Oregon primary on a petition with no more than 1,000 signatures, and his consent is not needed. In addition, no Oregon candidate can run on more than one ticket. Whether he approves or not, Eisenhower probably would have to indicate a preference for the Democratic or Republican party if Oregon petitions are started in his behalf.

So far, Ike has wisely pointed out that he has a job to do to whip SHAPE into shape, and that as a soldier, his job comes first.

● COSTLY GUZZLING—Rep. Frank T. Bow (R), O., wants to know how many hangovers—in addition to the big one for the taxpayer—were caused by the 122 million cocktails served by the State department since 1942.

That's the figure Bow arrived at after adding up the $6 million spent by the department on liquor in the last nine years. Bow estimated that the $6 million bought about 4,800,000 "fifths" of tax-free whisky at something like $1.25 a bottle.

He looked into the matter further and concluded that the 4,800,000 "fifths" would provide about 122 million cocktails if sparingly mixed.

MERCHANT MARINE WOES

THE United States is the world's second merchant ship nation, its shipping totalling approximately 19 million tons, compared to Britain's 22 million. The various companies operating merchant ships are of two classes, those that accept government subsidies and those that do not. The latter are greatly in the minority and may soon be snuffed out.

Recently maritime unions won agreements with key lines on wages, hours of labor, vacations and other benefits which will amount to a wage advance of 30 percent over the current base. This agreement is now before the Wage Stabilization Board, which is dominated by union officials and probably will accept it. In that event the non-subsidy lines are expected to go subsidy or quit operating.

It has been revealed that 64 percent of all tonnage moving on American ships is paid for by American taxpayers through government grants. Thus the American merchant marine, which in former days was strictly private enterprise and contributed greatly to America's progress, is now all but socialized and under the control of the politicians.

If union heads read history they must know that government control of any enterprise finally turns out badly for the working man. But they are pricing the sailors out of world markets and squarely into the arms of a government monopoly.

REDS GO UNDERGROUND

J. EDGAR HOOVER says the Communist Party in the United States is going still deeper underground, and in positions prepared in advance will continue its fight against free government and for Russia. The Communists plan to organize forces of destruction secretly until such time as they appear to be strong enough to start the revolution by which they hope to overthrow the Republic.

Working underground the Communists are busy coordinating their strategy, unobserved they hope. The American people have become more fully aware of the danger of Communism, and the Reds cannot face the righteous indignation of an aroused public.

Hoover sounds the warnings which all loyal Americans must heed. The head of the FBI has never regarded exposes of the Communist menace as "red herrings."

A million and a half pounds of rice are thrown at newly married couples in the United States in a year. Probably to prevent the government from giving it to the Chinese Reds.

Men, the women say, are contrary critters who want home atmosphere in a hotel and hotel service at home.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The McCarran committee obtained much of its information concerning the Institute of Pacific Relations by subpoenaing the files of that body which were in a barn in Lee, Mass., owned by Edward C. Carter.

Carter is a clever man, in his seventies, who has made his way in the world of international affairs with astounding success since World War 1.

It is admitted by Carter tha the files are authentic. The senators then wanted to know whether the institute had ever made an independent check to discover if the charges that Communists were using it as a front were authentic. Carter said that they had made such a check and threw in a lot of names: President Sproul of the University of California, Prof. Joseph P. Chamberlain of Columbia (his niece was then Mrs. Frederick Vanderbilt Field), Brooks Emeny of Cleveland, now president of the Foreign Policy Association, and Arthur Deane of Sullivan and Cromwell. There were others. What did they discover? Well, this is the colloquy on the subject:

"Mr. Carter. Not an investigation in the sense of reading 400 books and thousands of letters.

"Senator Ferguson. Do you not think it would have been proper for an organization such as this to make a search to attempt to see whether or not serious charges are true, so if there were they could clean their own house rather than to have a congressional committee do it?

"The Chairman. The question is susceptible to a yes or no answer, and you can explain afterwards. If you do not care to answer yes or no, I think the matter ought to terminate.

"Senator Ferguson. I want to know whether or not it would be a reasonable thing when charges are made against an organization as large as this that they were acting as a front of Communism, that somebody in there would not have had an examination, a detailed investigation of their house after these papers were seized and whether or not they did and whether or not they made a report.

"Mr. Carter. Charges that were made at the time of the seizure were in large part the same charges that had been made by a New York businessman Mr. Alfred Kohlberg. They were investigated in view of the officers of the IPR. They were not substantiated. The new charges were so similar, in some cases so identical, that I imagine the committee felt there was no use of going through it again.

"Senator Ferguson. Was this investigation made after the papers were found in the office of Amerasia? Didn't that put an entirely different complexion on this whole Communist front and this organization being a Communist front?

"Mr. Carter. It would have been an entirely complexion if there had been a proven charge that the Amerasia passed on restricted documents to representatives of foreign governments.

"Senator Ferguson. You mean the fact that they stole the papers out of the files of the federal government, and used them, the mere fact they didn't pass them on to foreign governments made a difference?

CHAPTER TWENTY-THREE

THE STRAY beef was rounded up, the fence repaired. The haying was over and there ensued a period of light work before the round-up would come in the early fall. It was a time when a man could leave his job for a few days and ride into town to see what it was like. Some of the hands did, though Frick tried to hold them to the ranch.

Tonto noticed the grumbling and he felt that Frick had no good reason to keep them so close to the bunkhouse. However, he did not countermand the segundo's orders, but one night he knocked on the cottage door. Frick appeared and his bulky body blocked the doorway. He made no move to invite Tonto inside.

"What's up?" he said. There was veiled insult in his tone.

"I hear you're holding the boys pretty close," Tonto said. "Any reason?"

"I need a crew to work the spread."

"Not all of 'em. The boys can rotate on trips to town."

"Tell 'em yourself."

"That's your job. I'm giving you a chance to straighten it up yourself."

"If that's the way you want it."

"I want it. Your grouching time's about up, Ken. A man's only got so much patience."

Tonto left him standing in the door. He went back to the ranch house and cursed himself for a fool. He should have dismissed Frick right after the fight. The man roweled like a cruel Spanish spur. Tonto sighed and called on his patience again. He had done the right thing. Every man of the crew knew that Frick had been given every chance to forget his grudge.

Saturday dawned bright and fair and Tonto himself felt the need to escape from the steady routine of work. He saddled Star and headed toward Avrillo. When he came to the Rafter K road, he drew rein and stared at the sign for long, long minutes then lifted his eyes and followed the yellow ruts of the road to the top of the hill.

He looked toward Avrillo. In sudden decision, he gave the road a parting salute and headed toward the Rafter K. Star sensed a new eagerness in his rider and the bay broke into a swift trot that quickly brought him to the brow of the hills. The road dipped and not far below was the Rafter K line fence and main gate.

He had just closed the gate after him when he heard the rattle of wheels and the muffled thud of hoofs. A buckboard came rolling toward him, Lois King handling the reins. A wrinkled old puncher sat beside her in the seat. She halted the team with a flourish and smiled at Tonto.

"A visitor to the Rafter K?" she said.

"You're riding to town," he said and she laughed at the disappointment in his voice. She passed the reins to the puncher and handed him a penciled list.

"You can get these as well as I. I'll go back to the ranch with Mr. Riley."

She was out of the buckboard and swung open the gate. Tonto and the old puncher looked at her in surprise. She laughed at Tonto. "You will give me a ride back home, won't you?"

"Oh, sure."

After the buckboard had rattled through the gate and on toward the town, Tonto and Lois mounted Star. She rode behind him, fingers hooked in his belt.

It was a pleasant way to ride, an intimate way. She had never been this close to him, and Tonto was keenly aware of the slight pressure of each finger in the small of his back. Now that he was with her, he found there was little he could say. Meaningless talk was somehow out of place and he felt that he could not as yet tell her how he really felt.

He had known her such a short time. How could he say that she intruded into his thoughts all the time? How could he tell her that time and again he had wanted to drop everything at the Slash S and ride to see her? Yet he had to. His dilemma kept him silent.

Lois said very little herself, seeming to sense his mood, though not the reason for it. They followed the pleasant trail deep into the hills until they came to a narrow little stream, not more than a foot deep and Star gave signs of wanting a drink.

"We'd better water Star," Tonto said over his shoulder.

"All right."

He reined Star in and gave Lois a hand as she dismounted. He swung out of saddle himself and the bay lowered its head to the water. Lois moved away a few feet and stood looking down the stream. Tonto came up beside her.

"I've always liked this place. It's not far from the ranch and sometimes I slip away to come up here and dream a little." She pointed to a tree close to the bank. "I sit over there for hours."

She smiled up at him and Tonto caught his breath. Something surged up within him, choking him. Instinctively he knew that this was the time and the place. His eyes held her and there was a subtle, slow change in her. Tonto felt it. He touched her shoulders, gently, and turned her toward him.

"I've been wanting to say—this."

He kissed her, held her close, kissed her again. For an instant she stiffened and was startled. Then her arms went up around his shoulders and her lips responded. At last Tonto raised his head and took a deep breath. He smiled down at her.

"I reckon—I've been looking for you all my life."

"So have I, Tonto. I've been a long time waiting."

He kissed her again. Now there were no doubts.

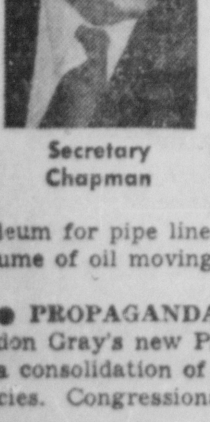
Mexican Oil May Help Make Up Iranian Loss

PWB May Get Control Of 'Voice of America'

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—United States officials who should know predict that this government will offer financial and technical aid to Mexico's nationalized oil industry to step up production and, in part, make up for losses suffered in Iran's nationalization of petroleum.



Secretary Chapman

Thus the losses suffered by one nation—Iran—through nationalization may benefit another nation—Mexico—which lost needed United States aid when it expropriated stateside oil properties years ago.

Preliminary negotiations are believed to be behind Interior Secretary Oscar L. Chapman's recent hurried trip south of the border.

A United States-Mexico oil agreement would be a complete reversal of administration policy, which has so far opposed any aid to Mexican oil.

Assistance to the Mexican National Oil Corporation, known as Pemex to thousands of U. S. tourists, would probably come from $150 million in loans earmarked for almost every other type of economic development in Mexico. Part of this fund, or additional credits, might be diverted to petroleum for pipe line equipment and other facilities to increase the volume of oil moving from Mexico's fields.

● PROPAGANDA MERGER?—Former Secretary of the Army Gordon Gray's new Psychological Warfare Board is expected to attempt a consolidation of the United States' various overseas publicity agencies. Congressional leaders are mapping a plan to move the State department's Voice of America to the PWB. However, a fight is expected from State.

Proponents of the move feel that it would be easier to get funds for the Voice if it is not in the State department, favorite target of congressional economizers. Many supporters of the Voice feel that it suffers because of its sponsorship.

The new Gray board, which will work with the Central Intelligence Agency, also may take over the Defense department's overseas information sections, as well as those of other departments.

● IKE AGAIN—There seems to be more than an even chance that the name of Gen. Dwight David Eisenhower will be entered in the Oregon presidential primary next May 16.

If Ike's hat is thrown in the ring, the tossing will have to be before Feb. 16—the required 90 days before the primary for filing the names of all candidates.

Supporters of the European supreme commander are anxious to test his drawing power and popularity in an actual vote. They also want to know what ticket on which to run him.

Oregon May Force Decision

A candidate's name may be entered in the Oregon primary on a petition with no more than 1,000 signatures, and his consent is not needed. In addition, no Oregon candidate can run on more than one ticket. Whether he approves or not, Eisenhower probably would have to indicate a preference for the Democratic or Republican party if Oregon petitions are started in his behalf.

So far, Ike has wisely pointed out that he has a job to do to whip SHAPE into shape, and that as a soldier, his job comes first.

● COSTLY GUZZLING—Rep. Frank T. Bow (R), O., wants to know how many hangovers—in addition to the big one for the taxpayer—were caused by the 122 million cocktails served by the State department since 1942.

That's the figure Bow arrived at after adding up the $6 million spent by the department on liquor in the last nine years. Bow estimated that the $6 million bought about 4,800,000 "fifths" of tax-free whisky at something like $1.25 a bottle.

He looked into the matter further and concluded that the 4,800,000 "fifths" would provide about 122 million cocktails if sparingly mixed.

THE RELUCTANT BUREAUCRAT

By ESTHER VAN WAGONER TUFTY
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Reluctantly, Katharine F. Lenroot of Superior, Wis., came to Washington some 36 years ago to take a $1,200 job with the Children's Bureau.

Reluctantly, she left as "chief" of the bureau at the top annual salary of $11,200. No other woman, except Frances Perkins, has held as high a government post for as long a period as 17 years.

Miss Lenroot is unlike any other bureaucrat. She is an old maid with more children than the storybook woman who lived in a shoe. Except Miss Lenroot found out what to do.

When she came to Washington the Children's Bureau itself was an infant. Too many mothers (61 to every 10,000 live childbirths) were dying in childbirth and too many babies (100 in every 1,000) weren't surviving the first year of life.

This gentle but determined spinster of 60 years had a lot to do with reducing the maternal mortality rate to 8 and the infant mortality rate to 29.

She brags about only one thing. She "didn't play politics" to get things done or to get promotions for herself. Her father was the Republican senator from Wisconsin from 1918 to 1927. She was appointed by Franklin D. Roosevelt. She did not attend $100 Jackson Day dinners, and never attended GOP shindigs.

After retirement Miss Lenroot will live in Westchester, close to New York City where she will continue her interest in the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

THE RELUCTANT BUREAUCRAT

By ESTHER VAN WAGONER TUFTY
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Reluctantly, Katharine F. Lenroot of Superior, Wis., came to Washington some 36 years ago to take a $1,200 job with the Children's Bureau.

Reluctantly, she left as "chief" of the bureau at the top annual salary of $11,200. No other woman, except Frances Perkins, has held as high a government post for as long a period as 17 years.

Miss Lenroot is unlike any other bureaucrat. She is an old maid with more children than the storybook woman who lived in a shoe. Except Miss Lenroot found out what to do.

When she came to Washington the Children's Bureau itself was an infant. Too many mothers (61 to every 10,000 live childbirths) were dying in childbirth and too many babies (100 in every 1,000) weren't surviving the first year of life.

This gentle but determined spinster of 60 years had a lot to do with reducing the maternal mortality rate to 8 and the infant mortality rate to 29.

She brags about only one thing. She "didn't play politics" to get things done or to get promotions for herself. Her father was the Republican senator from Wisconsin from 1918 to 1927. She was appointed by Franklin D. Roosevelt. She did not attend $100 Jackson Day dinners, and never attended GOP shindigs.

After retirement Miss Lenroot will live in Westchester, close to New York City where she will continue her interest in the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund.

The rites were read by the Rev. Robert Weaver of Circleville First Methodist church in the presence of members of the immediate families.

Guests present for the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ullman, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Mobberly, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ullman, Mrs. Elizabeth Davison and Robert Kline.

The couple left Friday for Farmington, N. Mex., where they will make their home.

Elinor Williams'

Teen Tips

Is it correct for a girl to visit her "special date" and his family at a vacation resort?

The long summer vacation brings a flock of queries like that one to this column. You know the set-up—Bill's family goes to the shore or lake for a vacation and Bill asks Joan to visit them for a weekend. "Is it all right?" she asks, "or will it make people gossip about me?"

It's OK for Bill to invite you for a weekend, Joan, because it can be fun and it proves that he thinks you're very "special." It's correct for you to accept if an invitation comes also from his mother. . .just to be sure that she's all for the deal and it's not just a friendly impulse on his part. His mother is your hostess, you see. She's the one who'll have to make the arrangements and do much of the work involved in the weekend.

So if you haven't received a telephone call or a note from her, give Bill a gentle hint. Thank him and tell him that you'd love to go, but shouldn't accept unless you hear from his mother so you'll be sure it's OK with her, too.

If she telephones, ask her what time she'd like you to plan to arrive and be there then. If she sends you a note, write a brief one in reply saying, "Thank you for your invitation to Silver Lake next weekend. I'd love to come and will arrive on the 3:30 train Friday." This also lets Bill know what time to meet you.

As for gossip, there'll be no reason for it with a member of Bill's family there when you're indoors.

Don't forget to take a small gift to the hostess and write a "Thank You" note afterward.

For help with personal problems, write to Elinor Williams at this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply.

Hoover Observes 77th Birthday

PALO ALTO, Cal., Aug. 10—Herbert Hoover observed his 77th birthday today just 18 years, five months and six days after giving up the tribulations of a chief executive for the comparatively carefree life of an ex-President.

Hoover planned to relax today at the ranch of his brother, Theodore, a mining engineer, in California's Santa Cruz mountains, after an automobile trip from his Palo Alto home.

Although he holds pronounced views on the current state of world affairs, Hoover issued no birthday statement. He announced through a secretary last night:

"I will postpone any remarks I might otherwise make until Aug. 30, when I speak in Des Moines."

Elinor Williams'

Teen Tips

Is it correct for a girl to visit her "special date" and his family at a vacation resort?

The long summer vacation brings a flock of queries like that one to this column. You know the set-up—Bill's family goes to the shore or lake for a vacation and Bill asks Joan to visit them for a weekend. "Is it all right?" she asks, "or will it make people gossip about me?"

It's OK for Bill to invite you for a weekend, Joan, because it can be fun and it proves that he thinks you're very "special." It's correct for you to accept if an invitation comes also from his mother. . .just to be sure that she's all for the deal and it's not just a friendly impulse on his part. His mother is your hostess, you see. She's the one who'll have to make the arrangements and do much of the work involved in the weekend.

So if you haven't received a telephone call or a note from her, give Bill a gentle hint. Thank him and tell him that you'd love to go, but shouldn't accept unless you hear from his mother so you'll be sure it's OK with her, too.

If she telephones, ask her what time she'd like you to plan to arrive and be there then. If she sends you a note, write a brief one in reply saying, "Thank you for your invitation to Silver Lake next weekend. I'd love to come and will arrive on the 3:30 train Friday." This also lets Bill know what time to meet you.

As for gossip, there'll be no reason for it with a member of Bill's family there when you're indoors.

Don't forget to take a small gift to the hostess and write a "Thank You" note afterward.

For help with personal problems, write to Elinor Williams at this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply.

Hoover Observes 77th Birthday

PALO ALTO, Cal., Aug. 10—Herbert Hoover observed his 77th birthday today just 18 years, five months and six days after giving up the tribulations of a chief executive for the comparatively carefree life of an ex-President.

Hoover planned to relax today at the ranch of his brother, Theodore, a mining engineer, in California's Santa Cruz mountains, after an automobile trip from his Palo Alto home.

Although he holds pronounced views on the current state of world affairs, Hoover issued no birthday statement. He announced through a secretary last night:

"I will postpone any remarks I might otherwise make until Aug. 30, when I speak in Des Moines."

Editors' Roundtable

"Editors Roundtable" is a twice-a-week release based on a study of an average of about 150 daily newspaper editorial pages. The major issue of the day is analyzed and digested, passed on to readers as a survey of opinion from the nation's leading editors. It is the "voice of the press."

TIDELANDS ISSUE

A plurality of editors now feels that the federal government's over-all responsibility for conduct of foreign affairs and national defense no more justifies federal title to offshore submerged lands of coastal states than to inland submerged area. But a very large minority argues that offshore submerged lands and their resources belong to all the nation. A smaller minority favors some form of compromise, as suggested in the Texas, Louisiana and California "tidelands" oil cases, with federal title to offshore areas, but with division of income from resources between coastal states involved and the federal government.

* * *

HOUSTON Post (Dem.): "For the third time within five years, the national House of Representatives has passed a tidelands state ownership bill. . .Congress enacted a similar measure in 1946, but failed to override the President's veto. In 1948 the House repassed it, but it died on the Senate calendar. . . .In the Senate all the opposition will concentrate its fire on this momentuos measure, which would nullify the federal grab of the petroleum treasure troves that lie beneath the marginal waters of the states. . . .The commanding House vote of 265 to 109 may have some influence in increasing Senate support."

* * *

LOUISVILLE Times (Ind.-Dem): "Twice—in 1947 and again in 1949 — the Supreme Court has declared that the federal government has 'paramount rights' to the submerged lands involved. It refrained, however, from saying that the government actually owns the lands. Many and complex are the issues thus left unresolved. Nevertheless, national defense, we believe, is the overriding issue. It alone not only justifies but should compel preservation of federal authority over the oil deposits at stake. . . .The disputed tidelands deposits are the richest source of supply this country has."

* * *

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Observer (Ind.-Dem.): "The issue. . .is not who gets the oil but who owns the submerged lands. . . . In a few decades all of the oil will be pumped out of the submerged lands and will be all-but-forgotten, but the main task of maintaining the sovereignty of the states as the Constitution stipulated will be always with us. . . .In the debate in the House, precedent after precedent was cited, judicial decision after judicial decision was quoted, all proving it to be the accepted principle that the submerged lands were in the domain of the states."

* * *

WASHINGTON Post (Ind.): "The marginal sea, the only area involved. . .is the strip of submerged land lying seaward of the low-tide mark. . . .Tidelands are the strip lying between the low-tide and hightide marks. . . .From the early days of the Republic, tidelands and inland waters have been held to belong to the individual states . . . .All the Supreme Court did was to assert that the federal government, as an attribute of national sovereignty, possesses paramount rights in and full dominion over the marginal sea —outside the tidelands. . . ."

* * *

HARTFORD (Conn.) Courant (Rep.): "Government attorneys insisted they made no claim to deposits under inland waters. But they didn't say they could not make such claims and have them held valid by the Court. . . This taking of the tidelands oil was based on 'the needs of defense and foreign affairs.' On that score, what lands may be exempt from seizure? If it is good reason for ousting the States from coastal waters, then it could 'transfer iron ore under uplands from state to federal ownership.' . . . Let no one think that this is an academic question, all dressed up in a labyrinth of legal phrases. . . ."

* * *

DENVER Post (Ind.): "The Supreme Court decision was based largely on the traditional responsibility of the federal government to protect the nation's shores from other countries, a responsibility which could not by any stretch of the imagination be extended to take in the lands under inland streams and lakes. Liberal legislation to allow the coastal states the lion's share of oil royalties and rentals from tidelands has been proposed. . . but 'states righters' will be satisfied with nothing less than complete surrender by the federal government as represented by Congress."

* * *

SAN FRANCISCO Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "Senator O'Mahoney asserts that no titles are endangered in harbors, bays, rivers and lakes. Yet the implications of the Court's decision are clear enough; if title to any of the submerged lands is Federal, title to all of it is. . . .The Interior Department, which at first wanted everything, is now willing to compromise (on division of oil royalties). This, to our mind, is nothing more nor less than an attempt to bribe the States to give up a fight for their just rights."

Nation Expected To Have Record High Of Beef Cattle In January

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 — The Agriculture Department predicted today that the nation's farms will have a new record high of 90 million cattle and calves by January.

Officials said this means more meat is coming—but not this year. They said good pasture conditions and a big supply of feed grains promise continued expansion in livestock production during 1951.

But efforts by cattle men to build up their herds will result in a smaller gain for meat production this year than the larger number of animals would indicate.

Despite high numbers of cattle on feed, and a large supply of all cattle on farms, commercial slaughter through July was down nine percent, and commercial calf slaughter 18 percent, from a year earlier.

What caused this big drop in cattle slaughter? Opinions differ—but here is what agriculture officials say:

1. Last January the nation's cattle herds included a larger than normal share of young stock—this in itself meant a late slaughter.

2. Farmers are keeping more young stock than last year to add to breeding herds or for feeding.

3. Although slaughter of cows and heifers held up well during the Winter it did not increase seasonally this Spring. In fact, slaughter of cows under federal inspection during May and June dropped far below 1950.

4. Pasture and range conditions in late Spring were unusually good in most regions, allowing cattle that otherwise might have been slaughtered by early Summer to remain on grass for further feeding.

And finally, the department said developments in legislation and uncertainty about government controls reduced slaughter during the Spring.

Flies, mosquitoes, gnats, light bugs and many other flying insects are now knocked down immediately and killed within a few minutes. The job is done by the new wonder product CENOX. Cenox kills a wider range of insects than DDT, but when used as directed is not harmful to man or warm blooded animals. It is a residual spray which means that it keeps on killing insects long after the first spraying is done. Be sure to insist on Cenox, sold at your local Drug Store, that is the way to play safe. Cenox is made by Cenol Company only, manufacturers of Tensite for crawling insects.

18 Indicted For Gambling

CANTON, Aug. 10—Trial for 18 defendants indicted by the Stark County grand jury for gambling violations is set for Aug. 20.

Twelve persons pleaded guilty to similar gambling charges last Spring. They were fined $200 and costs and were given suspended 90-day sentences.

Gambling devices allegedly were found in the small business establishments of 17 of the defendants. The other defendant has been cited on a charge of permitting gambling.

Let machinery do the work in filling your silo this fall.

With the Allis-Chalmers Forage Harvester and Forage Blower, power handles the crop all the way from field to silo. You get the job done quickly, without a big crew. With your own Forage Harvester, you make better silage because you can cut at the right time.

The A-C Forage Harvester has spiral, cupped knives three feet wide. They handle heavy crops easily. Knives are power-honed without removing them from the machine. The Forage Harvester is a 3-way machine, with attachments for row crops, standing grass, or windrows.

See the Forage Harvester before you make silage this year.

Floating Dream Falters In Fast Greers Stake

Something's amiss with our Floating Dream.

The world's champion pacing filly for 1950, foaled and given her first start in Pickaway County, came in seventh in Thursday's running of the lush Greers State in Goshen. N. Y.

Winner was Tar Heel, a North Carolina colt who was timed in the two heats in 2:01 and 2:01 3-5.

In the initial mile it was Chuck Volo that furnished the excitement as the field of eight sophomore side wheelers neared the payoff wire. Chuck, owned and driven by Wendell Mathen of Ft. Fairfield, Me., just missed by a whisker catching Tar Heel. Third honors in the opener went to Tar Heels stablemate, Direct Rhythm, owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky.

Solicitor, the third member of the famed Reynolds entry, away to a bad break in the opening heat and finishing last, was on his good behavior in the second mile, finishing third behind Tar Heel and Direct Rhythm.

Big disappointment of the race was Floating Dream, owned and driven by McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H.

After gaining an early lead in each heat, she eased off the pace but failed to show any finishing kick in either mile. She was seventh in each ecnounter, tiring in the stretch drive both times. This marked the first time Floating Dream had been out of the money since last year at Delaware.

In nine previous starts this season she was seven times a winner, once second and once third.

But she still is the leading money-winning 3-year-old pacer of this season, with earnings of $18,865.85.

Local Riflemen To Host Match Here On Sunday

Pickaway County Rifle and Pistol Club will be host to the final outdoor match of the Central Ohio Rifle League Sunday in Pickaway Fairgrounds.

In its last match, held in Chillicothe, the local team ranked last in the five-team league with a total of 3,118 points.

Chillicothe ranked first in the match with 3,176 points; Zanesville was second with 3,159; Columbus was third with 3,157; and Roseville was fourth with 3,137.

Heading the local team in the contest was A. C. Noecker, who posted a 394 score in the iron sights match and 397 in the any-sights class.

Final match of the league here Sunday is to begin at about 11 a. m. and close at about 3 p. m.

Mainliner's Owner Sees His Colt First Time, Wins Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 10—The luckiest man in the trotting world today is Ralph Kroening, a middle-aged industrial engineer from Milwaukee.

For Kroening is the owner of Mainliner, the three-year-old colt by Worthy Boy-Sister Mary, which yesterday won the 26th running of the Hambletonian stake, the richest trotting classic in the world.

The race had a record value of $95,263 and of this Mainliner dragged down $51,347, which also is a record for a Hambletonian winner.

What makes the case unusual is the fact that Kroening bought the horse last year—sight unseen —for $25,000 and until yesterday he had not only never seen his horse trot, but had never even laid eyes on him.

Less than a year ago, Kroening, who is a Johnny-come-lately in the game, gave Guy Crippen, who trained and drove Mainliner to victory in the Hambletonian, carte blanche to buy a good horse.

* * *

SO THE 59-year-old reinsman went around to see his old pal, Sep Palin, who had Mainliner, and cooked up a deal.

Kroening told Crippen that he did not want to bother with yearlings, but would like to have some horses which had shown something as two-year-olds. Mainliner filled the bill. He had won 10, placed nine times and was third once in 25 starts last year.

But this year he had won only one cheap race in 13 previous starts.

Crippen, a tall gaunt man with a keen sense of humor, who is known as Crying Towel Crippen among reinsmen, said the horse did not appear to like the half-mile tracks he had been running on this year.

However, when he set down on the mile track at Goshen he was right at home and won his two straight heats with plenty to spare. He returned 27 to 1 in the first heat—the longest priced horse in the record field of 21, but in the second heat he returned only 7 to 2.

Times for the mile were 2:02 2-5 and 2:04 3-5.

Kroening said he had only "a small bet" on the horse in both heats and Crippen vowed he himself was the most surprised man at the track when the horse took command when called on and breezed home against such great favorites as Spennib, Scotch Rhythm, which finished second and third, respectively, Betsy Volo and Mighty Fine.

10 VETERANS TO RETURN

Brudzinski Sets Aug. 20 For 1st Tiger Practice

First call to arms or Circleville's 1951 gridiron gladiators will be Aug. 20 at the high school.

Tiger Coach Steve Brudzinski, whose football mentoring has given Circleville championship after championship during the last few years and statewide recognition, has called the first practice for 9:30 a. m. Aug. 20.

Candidates for varsity posts on this year's Red and Black football team will report twice a day for workouts until school starts.

Brudzinski said practices will be held at 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. daily until school opens, each session to last about 90 minutes.

Among this year's grid hopefuls will be 10 of last year's lettermen, seeking varsity berths on this year's squad.

Returning lettermen this season will be Bob Turner, Harry Redman, Big Bill Gillis, John Cockrell, William Boyd, Dave Coffland, Jerry Rooney, Jerry Pritcahrd, Ted Raymond and Jim Cook.

* * *

HOWEVER, 11 OF last year's "regulars" will be missing. Heading the list of the lettermen not returning are Gene Kerns, captain of the championship 1950 crew, and Big John Valentine, battering-ram workhorse of the title team.

Other lettermen who will not be in the lineup this year because of graduation and other reasons are Bill Stout, Lowell Thomas, Lee Smith, Bob Ford, Harold McClarren, Don Mancini, Dixie Harris, Cecil "Champ" Sowers and Jim George.

All city school lads wishing to try out for the 1951 team are to report for the practice sessions. The lads are to report to the school first before every session to don practice garb and then will be transported to Ted Lewis Park, where actual workouts will be held.

In addition to seeking their fourth South Central Ohio League championship without a loss to a league member team, the Tigers of 1951 will also be trying to extend their near-perfect run of victories amassed in the last four seasons.

Under the tutelage of Coach Brudzinski, Tiger teams have racked up a total of 26 victories in 27 starts since the end of the 1947 season—one of the finest records in the state.

Spoiling what otherwise would be a perfect record were Columbus St. Charles gridders last season. St. Charles handed the Tigers a 26-13 loss in midseason last year, the only team to nick the Tigers for a victory in more than three years.

However, the local gladiators will seek revenge on the capital team this Fall, scheduled to meet the St. Charles team here Oct. 19.

As usual, Holy Rosary of Columbus will be the first foe facing the CHS'ers this year. The Tigers will open their 1951 season Sept. 14 against the Rosaryites on the local grid.

Other games and dates for this year's team are: Lancaster here Sept. 21; at Wilmington Sept. 28; at Hillsboro Oct. 5; Monroe here Oct. 12; St. Charles here Oct. 19; Greenfield here Oct. 25; at Westerville Nov. 2; and Washington C. H. here Nov. 9.

12-2 Victory Moves Hatters Into Semifinals

Top Hat softballers of Circleville advanced into the quarterfinals of the loser's bracket of the district softball tournament in Portsmouth Thursday with a lopsided 12-2 victory over Waverly.

Behind the hurling efforts of Kenneth Reid, Hatter sluggers held a 12-2 margin over the Waverly team going into the seventh, ending the game by the 10-run rule.

Reid whiffed seven of the Waverly batters in the test while allowing only two hits, and Harold Gulick helped the Hatter batting department with a homer in the fourth with one on.

Top Hat is to meet Texaco Oilers of Chillicothe at 8:30 p. m. Friday in its quarterfinals test.

Floating Dream Falters In Fast Greers Stake

Something's amiss with our Floating Dream.

The world's champion pacing filly for 1950, foaled and given her first start in Pickaway County, came in seventh in Thursday's running of the lush Greers State in Goshen. N. Y.

Winner was Tar Heel, a North Carolina colt who was timed in the two heats in 2:01 and 2:01 3-5.

In the initial mile it was Chuck Volo that furnished the excitement as the field of eight sophomore side wheelers neared the payoff wire. Chuck, owned and driven by Wendell Mathen of Ft. Fairfield, Me., just missed by a whisker catching Tar Heel. Third honors in the opener went to Tar Heels stablemate, Direct Rhythm, owned by W. G. Reynolds of Louisville, Ky.

Solicitor, the third member of the famed Reynolds entry, away to a bad break in the opening heat and finishing last, was on his good behavior in the second mile, finishing third behind Tar Heel and Direct Rhythm.

Big disappointment of the race was Floating Dream, owned and driven by McKinley Kirk of Washington C. H.

After gaining an early lead in each heat, she eased off the pace but failed to show any finishing kick in either mile. She was seventh in each ecnounter, tiring in the stretch drive both times. This marked the first time Floating Dream had been out of the money since last year at Delaware.

In nine previous starts this season she was seven times a winner, once second and once third.

But she still is the leading money-winning 3-year-old pacer of this season, with earnings of $18,865.85.

Local Riflemen To Host Match Here On Sunday

Pickaway County Rifle and Pistol Club will be host to the final outdoor match of the Central Ohio Rifle League Sunday in Pickaway Fairgrounds.

In its last match, held in Chillicothe, the local team ranked last in the five-team league with a total of 3,118 points.

Chillicothe ranked first in the match with 3,176 points; Zanesville was second with 3,159; Columbus was third with 3,157; and Roseville was fourth with 3,137.

Heading the local team in the contest was A. C. Noecker, who posted a 394 score in the iron sights match and 397 in the any-sights class.

Final match of the league here Sunday is to begin at about 11 a. m. and close at about 3 p. m.

Mainliner's Owner Sees His Colt First Time, Wins Hambletonian

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 10—The luckiest man in the trotting world today is Ralph Kroening, a middle-aged industrial engineer from Milwaukee.

For Kroening is the owner of Mainliner, the three-year-old colt by Worthy Boy-Sister Mary, which yesterday won the 26th running of the Hambletonian stake, the richest trotting classic in the world.

The race had a record value of $95,263 and of this Mainliner dragged down $51,347, which also is a record for a Hambletonian winner.

What makes the case unusual is the fact that Kroening bought the horse last year—sight unseen—for $25,000 and until yesterday he had not only never seen his horse trot, but had never even laid eyes on him.

Less than a year ago, Kroening, who is a Johnny-come-lately in the game, gave Guy Crippen, who trained and drove Mainliner to victory in the Hambletonian, carte blanche to buy a good horse.

* * *

SO THE 59-year-old reinsman went around to see his old pal, Sep Palin, who had Mainliner, and cooked up a deal.

Kroening told Crippen that he did not want to bother with yearlings, but would like to have some horses which had shown something as two-year-olds. Mainliner filled the bill. He had won 10, placed nine times and was third once in 25 starts last year.

But this year he had won only one cheap race in 13 previous starts.

Crippen, a tall gaunt man with a keen sense of humor, who is known as Crying Towel Crippen among reinsmen, said the horse did not appear to like the half-mile tracks he had been running on this year.

However, when he set down on the mile track at Goshen he was right at home and won his two straight heats with plenty to spare. He returned 27 to 1 in the first heat—the longest priced horse in the record field of 21, but in the second heat he returned only 7 to 2.

Times for the mile were 2:02 2-5 and 2:04 3-5.

Kroening said he had only "a small bet" on the horse in both heats and Crippen vowed he himself was the most surprised man at the track when the horse took command when called on and breezed home against such great favorites as Spennib, Scotch Rhythm, which finished second and third, respectively, Betsy Volo and Mighty Fine.

10 VETERANS TO RETURN

Brudzinski Sets Aug. 20 For 1st Tiger Practice

First call to arms or Circleville's 1951 gridiron gladiators will be Aug. 20 at the high school.

Tiger Coach Steve Brudzinski, whose football mentoring has given Circleville championship after championship during the last few years and statewide recognition, has called the first practice for 9:30 a. m. Aug. 20.

Candidates for varsity posts on this year's Red and Black football team will report twice a day for workouts until school starts.

Brudzinski said practices will be held at 9:30 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. daily until school opens, each session to last about 90 minutes.

Among this year's grid hopefuls will be 10 of last year's lettermen, seeking varsity berths on this year's squad.

Returning lettermen this season will be Bob Turner, Harry Redman, Big Bill Gillis, John Cockrell, William Boyd, Dave Coffland, Jerry Rooney, Jerry Pritcahrd, Ted Raymond and Jim Cook.

* * *

HOWEVER, 11 OF last year's "regulars" will be missing. Heading the list of the lettermen not returning are Gene Kerns, captain of the championship 1950 crew, and Big John Valentine, battering-ram workhorse of the title team.

Other lettermen who will not be in the lineup this year because of graduation and other reasons are Bill Stout, Lowell Thomas, Lee Smith, Bob Ford, Harold McClarren, Don Mancini, Dixie Harris, Cecil "Champ" Sowers and Jim George.

All city school lads wishing to try out for the 1951 team are to report for the practice sessions. The lads are to report to the school first before every session to don practice garb and then will be transported to Ted Lewis Park, where actual workouts will be held.

In addition to seeking their fourth South Central Ohio League championship without a loss to a league member team, the Tigers of 1951 will also be trying to extend their near-perfect run of victories amassed in the last four seasons.

Under the tutelage of Coach Brudzinski, Tiger teams have racked up a total of 26 victories in 27 starts since the end of the 1947 season—one of the finest records in the state.

Spoiling what otherwise would be a perfect record were Columbus St. Charles gridders last season. St. Charles handed the Tigers a 26-13 loss in midseason last year, the only team to nick the Tigers for a victory in more than three years.

However, the local gladiators will seek revenge on the capital team this Fall, scheduled to meet the St. Charles team here Oct. 19.

As usual, Holy Rosary of Columbus will be the first foe facing the CHS'ers this year. The Tigers will open their 1951 season Sept. 14 against the Rosaryites on the local grid.

Other games and dates for this year's team are: Lancaster here Sept. 21; at Wilmington Sept. 28; at Hillsboro Oct. 5; Monroe here Oct. 12; St. Charles here Oct. 19; Greenfield here Oct. 25; at Westerville Nov. 2; and Washington C. H. here Nov. 9.

12-2 Victory Moves Hatters Into Semifinals

Top Hat softballers of Circleville advanced into the quarterfinals of the loser's bracket of the district softball tournament in Portsmouth Thursday with a lopsided 12-2 victory over Waverly.

Behind the hurling efforts of Kenneth Reid, Hatter sluggers held a 12-2 margin over the Waverly team going into the seventh, ending the game by the 10-run rule.

Reid whiffed seven of the Waverly batters in the test while allowing only two hits, and Harold Gulick helped the Hatter batting department with a homer in the fourth with one on.

Top Hat is to meet Texaco Oilers of Chillicothe at 8:30 p. m. Friday in its quarterfinals test.

Yank Netters Are Favored

MONTREAL, Aug. 10—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and Dick Savitt of Orange, N. J., carry the United States banner into the Davis Cup American Zone final against Canada today.

The U. S. youngsters are favored to whip their Canadian foes in the opening singles matches and pave the way for a U. S. win which will get it into the inter-zone final with Sweden.

Toledo Allows 2 Cage Stars To Resign Classes

TOLEDO, Aug. 10—University of Toledo authorities have allowed two basketball stars involved in the recent bribe scandal to withdraw from school rather than be expelled.

Dean of Students Donald F. Parks said the discipline committee recommended lenient action in recognition of the full cooperation offered by Players Jack Feeman and Robert McDonald to District Attorney Frank Hogan of New York City.

Parks also pointed out that this action will give Feeman and McDonald a better chance if they seek admission to another college.

Carlo Muzi and William Walker, two other players who admitted taking part in the "fix," graduated last June.

A fifth player, Freshman Joseph Massa, has been expelled pending an appearance before the discipline committee. Massa, who allegedly introduced the Toledo players to a New York gambler, has remained in New York and has shown no indication of returning to the campus for questioning.

Winners Named In Final Tests Of Park Program

Final day of the 1951 Ted Lewis Park Summer playground program opened Friday with a softball game for boys and girls and ended with a picnic at noon.

However, one more activity remains on the schedule before this year's park program is completely ended.

A swim party for Circleville youngsters at Gold Cliff Park is planned for Monday morning. Youngsters wanting to make the trip are to be in the park at 9 a. m. Monday.

In Thursday's final series of games and contests, featuring judging of embroidery, a total of 18 prizes were awarded to the park youngsters.

Barbara Binkley and Barbara Manson won first place honors in their divisions during the embroidery judging, conducted by Mrs. William Cook and Mrs. Paul Hang.

• • •

OTHER WINNERS in embroidery were Helen Rife, Sally Curry, Carolyn Bivens, Joy Harrison and Joyce Goodman.

Tom Miller and Buddy Ferguson were winners in the boys' marbles tournament during the day, while Miller, Robert Gulick, Ed Withers and Ferguson won prizes in the boys' base running contest.

Winners in the girls' base running were Linda Ferguson, Alice Smith, Joy Harrison, Dixie Kirby and Carolyn Rife.

Brough-duPont Net Reign Ends In National Test

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 10—The nine-year reign of Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne du- doubles champions was at an end today.

Miss Brough, who suffered an elbow injury a month ago, has withdrawn from the women's division of the national doubles championship which start at Longwood Cricket Club Monday. It is not known whether she will be available for the Wightman Cup matches which start at Longwood Aug. 24.

As a result of the withdrawal of America's ace women's team, Shirley Fry of Akron and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., who defeated Brough and duPont for the Wimbledon title, are expected to get the top seeded spot in the women's division.

Five other defending champions will be in action next week, although Frank Sedgman, who holds the men's title with Jack Bromwich, will be playing with a new partner, Kenneth MacGregor of the Australian Davis Cup team.

These Days

"Mr. Carter. I think it did because I think one would be espionage or something more serious.

"The Chairman. One would be theft and the other would be treason, is that not true?

"Mr. Carter. You are the chairman.

"Senator Ferguson. Were they not both serious matters?"

'Mr. Carter. Yes."

This testimony ended on this note:

"Senator Eastland. How do you know copies of those documents were not passed on to foreign governments?

"Mr. Carter. A lot of people have been trying to prove it and it has not been proven.

'Senator Eastland. You just testified they were not passed on. How did you know that?

"Mr. Carter. They were stolen; they certainly were stolen. They were secured irregularly by people who were accused of being Communists."

The fact is that the two raids on the "Amerasia" magazine offices (1945) produced a large quantity of documents which should have been in the State Department but were in the magazine offices, where there was considerable photostating equipment.

It has never been explained how they got there. Those documents were either stolen, or were given to "Amerasia" by authorized or unauthorized persons. Neither the court cases nor the Tydings committee produced the evidence on how these documents moved from the State Department, Treasury, Army and Navy Intelligence in Washington to the "Amerasia" office in New York.

Perhaps before the McCarran committee has completed its work, it may find out.

Winners Named In Final Tests Of Park Program

Final day of the 1951 Ted Lewis Park Summer playground program opened Friday with a softball game for boys and girls and ended with a picnic at noon.

However, one more activity remains on the schedule before this year's park program is completely ended.

A swim party for Circleville youngsters at Gold Cliff Park is planned for Monday morning. Youngsters wanting to make the trip are to be in the park at 9 a. m. Monday.

In Thursday's final series of games and contests, featuring judging of embroidery, a total of 18 prizes were awarded to the park youngsters.

Barbara Binkley and Barbara Manson won first place honors in their divisions during the embroidery judging, conducted by Mrs. William Cook and Mrs. Paul Hang.

• • •

OTHER WINNERS in embroidery were Helen Rife, Sally Curry, Carolyn Bivens, Joy Harrison and Joyce Goodman.

Tom Miller and Buddy Ferguson were winners in the boys' marbles tournament during the day, while Miller, Robert Gulick, Ed Withers and Ferguson won prizes in the boys' base running contest.

Winners in the girls' base running were Linda Ferguson, Alice Smith, Joy Harrison, Dixie Kirby and Carolyn Rife.

Brough-duPont Net Reign Ends In National Test

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 10—The nine-year reign of Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Cal., and Mrs. Margaret Osborne dudoubles champions was at an end today.

Miss Brough, who suffered an elbow injury a month ago, has withdrawn from the women's division of the national doubles championship which start at Longwood Cricket Club Monday. It is not known whether she will be available for the Wightman Cup matches which start at Longwood Aug. 24.

As a result of the withdrawal of America's ace women's team, Shirley Fry of Akron and Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., who defeated Brough and duPont for the Wimbledon title, are expected to get the top seeded spot in the women's division.

Five other defending champions will be in action next week, although Frank Sedgman, who holds the men's title with Jack Bromwich, will be playing with a new partner, Kenneth MacGregor of the Australian Davis Cup team.

Sokolsky's

"Mr. Carter. I think it did because I think one would be espionage or something more serious.

"The Chairman. One would be theft and the other would be treason, is that not true?

"Mr. Carter. You are the chairman.

"Senator Ferguson. Were they not both serious matters?"

'Mr. Carter. Yes."

This testimony ended on this note:

"Senator Eastland. How do you know copies of those documents were not passed on to foreign governments?

"Mr. Carter. A lot of people have been trying to prove it and it has not been proven.

'Senator Eastland. You just testified they were not passed on. How did you know that?

"Mr. Carter. They were stolen; they certainly were stolen. They were secured irregularly by people who were accused of being Communists."

The fact is that the two raids on the "Amerasia" magazine offices (1945) produced a large quantity of documents which should have been in the State Department but were in the magazine offices, where there was considerable photostating equipment.

It has never been explained how they got there. Those documents were either stolen, or were given to "Amerasia" by authorized or unauthorized persons. Neither the court cases nor the Tydings committee produced the evidence on how these documents moved from the State Department, Treasury, Army and Navy Intelligence in Washington to the "Amerasia" office in New York.

Perhaps before the McCarran committee has completed its work, it may find out.

First 10 Charter Members Sign Up For Local Flying Club

Group Set To Purchase Own Plane

Flight Time Cost To Be Cut Sharply

Circleville Flying Club became a virtual certainty Thursday evening with the signing of the first ten charter members.

Meeting in the Elsea Airport hangar, club members, directed by President Don Collins, went over the requirements of a flying club.

Discussed were initiation fees, monthly dues and rental time to be charged for use of a club-owned airplane.

The proposal tentatively adopted by the group of local aviation enthusiasts calls for a $35 initiation fee and $3-a-month membership dues.

After acquiring a plane in the club's name, the ship will be available to members at $4 per flight hour with one hour per month as a minimum.

* * *

THIS PRICE compares to the current rock-bottom commercial rental of $6.

Members are to agree to remain good standing in the club for a year. Special attention is to be paid to student pilots who will receive the same benefits plus instruction which carries a fee of about $3 an hour.

As the club membership builds up, officials hope to cut back costs to individuals.

Next items on the club's agenda include incorporation of the club as a non-profit organization, purchase of an airplane (probably a two place side-by-side job), approval of constitution and bylaws and a general membership drive.

In all probability, the club will take under its wing the supervision of the local Boy Scout air squadron and may sponsor such aviation projects as model plane building and flying.

The first ten men to sign up for the club Thursday evening were Dr. Richard Samuel, Dr. Ray Carroll, Bob Shaw, David McDonald, John Bell, Forest Scothorn, Robert Elsea, Warren Harmon, Myron Schelb and Collins.

Next meeting of the club is scheduled for Thursday evening in the Elsea Airport hangar.

17 Left Dead In Texas Heat

DALLAS, Aug. 10 — Parched, sun-beaten Texas waited anxiously today for the slightly cooler weather promised by forecasters.

One of the worst heat waves in the state's history has left 17 persons dead and millions of dollars damage in scorched crops.

Six persons have died in Dallas from the blazing heat since last weekend. Five lives have been lost in Houston.

Dallas cooled to 103 degrees yesterday from the wave's peak 107, but temperatures soared to 114 in Presidio and 113 in Henrietta.

Refrigeration Specialists Open Business Here; Service Stressed

Two refrigeration specialists have tacked up their shingle in Circleville and have been granted the local franchise on one of the leading lines of appliances.

Known as the Circleville Appliance and Refrigeration Co., the firm is located at 160 West Main street, the rooms recently vacated by the local branch of the Rural Electrification Administration.

The fledgling firm is headed by Robert Griffiths and Wess Yoakum, both of whom come to this city from Columbus.

Backed by a total of 22 years experience in the business, Griffiths and Yoakum are setting up their retail trade around products of Frigidaire Division, General Motors Corp.

They hold the exclusive Frigidaire franchise in Circleville.

* * *

FORMERLY associated with Frigidaire's main Central Ohio service agency in Columbus, Griffiths and Yoakum are specialists in both domestic and commercial refrigeration.

While maintaining a retail outlet for refrigeration units, Sunbeam products and home freezer equipment, the two men report that "service" will be their forte.

Each of the men is married, a father, an ex-GI and is planning to make a permanent home in Circleville as soon as housing is made available.

A formal opening for the new venture will be held in the near future. It will feature Frigidaire representatives and home economists from Dayton headquarters.

Despite Windfall Skid Row Resident To Stay There

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—Everett Richter, 60-year-old Skid Row down-and-outer, said today he plans to spend the rest of his life in Chicago's district of "forgotten" men—despite an inheritance which boosted his capital from a penny to $12,500.

Richter, who nas been living for 30 years on the "row" with hundreds of floaters and derelicts, was standing on a street corner yesterday when an acquaintance told him he was the sole heir to a Michigan estate let by his mother.

At the time Richter had only one cent in his pocket and had not eaten in a day.

The estate left by Mrs. Christine Proctor of Pentwater, Mich., includes a Summer resort and two cottages at Bass Lake, Mich. Mrs. Proctor died two weeks ago.

Richter, who had not seen his mother in six years, said he probably will leave his 75-cents-a-night room but added:

"I like it on skid row. All my friends are here. I'll never leave."

Next items on the club's agenda include incorporation of the club as a non-profit organization, purchase of an airplane (probably a two place side-by-side job), approval of constitution and bylaws and a general membership drive.

In all probability, the club will take under its wing the supervision of the local Boy Scout air squadron and may sponsor such aviation projects as model plane building and flying.

The first ten men to sign up for the club Thursday evening were Dr. Richard Samuel, Dr. Ray Carroll, Bob Shaw, David McDonald, John Bell, Forest Scothorn, Robert Elsea, Warren Harmon, Myron Schelb and Collins.

Next meeting of the club is scheduled for Thursday evening in the Elsea Airport hangar.

17 Left Dead In Texas Heat

DALLAS, Aug. 10 — Parched, sun-beaten Texas waited anxiously today for the slightly cooler weather promised by forecasters.

One of the worst heat waves in the state's history has left 17 persons dead and millions of dollars damage in scorched crops.

Six persons have died in Dallas from the blazing heat since last weekend. Five lives have been lost in Houston.

Dallas cooled to 103 degrees yesterday from the wave's peak 107, but temperatures soared to 114 in Presidio and 113 in Henrietta.

Refrigeration Specialists Open Business Here; Service Stressed

Two refrigeration specialists have tacked up their shingle in Circleville and have been granted the local franchise on one of the leading lines of appliances.

Known as the Circleville Appliance and Refrigeration Co., the firm is located at 160 West Main street, the rooms recently vacated by the local branch of the Rural Electrification Administration.

The fledgling firm is headed by Robert Griffiths and Wess Yoakum, both of whom come to this city from Columbus.

Backed by a total of 22 years experience in the business, Griffiths and Yoakum are setting up their retail trade around products of Frigidaire Division, General Motors Corp.

They hold the exclusive Frigidaire franchise in Circleville.

FORMERLY associated with Frigidaire's main Central Ohio service agency in Columbus, Griffiths and Yoakum are specialists in both domestic and commercial refrigeration.

While maintaining a retail outlet for refrigeration units, Sunbeam products and home freezer equipment, the two men report that "service" will be their forte.

Each of the men is married, a father, an ex-GI and is planning to make a permanent home in Circleville as soon as housing is made available.

A formal opening for the new venture will be held in the near future. It will feature Frigidaire representatives and home economists from Dayton headquarters.

Despite Windfall Skid Row Resident To Stay There

CHICAGO, Aug. 10—Everett Richter, 60-year-old Skid Row down-and-outer, said today he plans to spend the rest of his life in Chicago's district of "forgotten" men—despite an inheritance which boosted his capital from a penny to $12,500.

Richter, who nas been living for 30 years on the "row" with hundreds of floaters and derelicts, was standing on a street corner yesterday when an acquaintance told him he was the sole heir to a Michigan estate let by his mother.

At the time Richter had only one cent in his pocket and had not eaten in a day.

The estate left by Mrs. Christine Proctor of Pentwater, Mich., includes a Summer resort and two cottages at Bass Lake, Mich. Mrs. Proctor died two weeks ago.

Richter, who had not seen his mother in six years, said he probably will leave his 75-cents-a-night room but added:

"I like it on skid row. All my friends are here. I'll never leave."
